Message from the IOC President

The International Olympic Committee’s World Conference on Sport for All, under the leadership of the IOC Sport for All Commission, is an opportune moment to shine a light on all the excellent work being undertaken around the world to encourage people – irrespective of age, gender or ability – to lead healthy, active lifestyles and to enjoy all the benefits that come with it.

The 15th IOC World Conference on Sport for All in Peru promises to bring together some of the leading experts in the field to share their best practices and to assess the impact of the call to action adopted during the last Conference in Beijing in September 2011.

The Sport for All movement has been making major strides in recent years and we expect the 2013 World Conference to continue this trend. I am sure the Conference in Peru will be a great success and I look forward to seeing you there.

Jacques Rogge
President of the International Olympic Committee

Message from the Chairman of the IOC Sport for All Commission

An impressive group of experts has been confirmed for the 15th IOC World Conference on Sport for All in Peru and we are looking forward to many interesting and informative discussions ahead.

We have been very pleased with the progress being made in the Sport for All field over the years and the IOC World Conference has played an important role in this evolution. Our hope in Peru is that we can continue to build on the momentum generated at the last conference in Beijing through the sharing of the many excellent Sport for All initiatives taking place around the world.

We welcome you all and encourage each and every one of you to share and learn and to continue your excellent work in making sport available to everyone regardless of age, race, sex or social class.

Sam Ramsamy
Chairman of the IOC Sport for All Commission

Message from the IOC Member in Peru

It is a tremendous privilege to welcome you all to Peru for the 15th IOC World Conference on Sport for All.

Sport for All is a movement through which people of all ages and abilities can come together and share in an Olympic ideal, to realise that sport can be a means to improving the quality of one’s life and a way of effecting social change.

Practising sport is a human right and one that we are actively pursuing here in Peru. Sport for All is having a substantial positive impact on levels of physical activity in Peru.

We have a great story to share and we look forward to learning from others’ experiences too. We are delighted to be hosting this important conference in our capital city.

Iván Dibós
IOC Member in Peru

Message from the NOC President

Sport for All is a movement promoting the Olympic ideal that sport is a human right for all individuals regardless of race, social class and gender. The movement encourages sports activities that can be exercised by people of all ages, both sexes and different social and economic conditions.

It is an honour for the Peruvian National Olympic Committee to host the 15th IOC World Conference on Sport for All, which will bring together recognized agents of social change to share with us their experiences and best practices aimed at promoting the culture of sport as a healthy and positive lifestyle.

Lima opens the door to all participants of this event, by providing our rich history, gastronomy and culture; a manifestation of the change that Peru has been experiencing in order to consolidate itself as a prominent Latin American country.

José Quiñones Gonzalez
President of the Peruvian Olympic Committee

Message from the President of SportAccord

SportAccord is the umbrella organisation for 107 Olympic and non-Olympic international sports federations and organisations, supporting its Members in promoting the benefits of sport and physical activity at both the elite and grassroots levels. Elite sports events play an important role as communication and education platforms to influence healthy behaviour and can serve as catalysts for community mobilisation to support health promotion and disease prevention.

Globally, the sports movement has a responsibility to facilitate and invest in culturally relevant, community-level sport for all programmes to encourage more active healthy living. SportAccord is proud to be part of the Sport for All Movement and looks forward to a successful 15th edition of the IOC World Conference on Sport for All.

Hein Verbruggen
President of SportAccord

Message from the President of the PSI

I am pleased to invite you, on behalf of the Municipality of Miraflores, to the 15th IOC World Conference on Sport for All. This is a great opportunity to talk, share and learn about sport and its role in our societies.

Sports are not only for entertainment, they are also an occasion for exchange and understanding among people of diverse backgrounds and beliefs. This is why I am convinced that sport is a vital key for social development and cohesion. I hope we all have the chance to meet each other during this important event and to share our ideas and common goals on this subject.

Jorge Muñoz
Mayor of Miraflores

Message from the President of the PSI

We are pleased to welcome you and share with all of you the 15th IOC World Conference on Sport for All, to be held in our city, Lima, Capital of Peru, in April 2013.

We will discover and exchange experiences from different cultures. The Peruvian Sports Institute, which I have the privilege to represent, agrees with the idea of promoting sport as a healthy and positive lifestyle in society, and our job is to promote sports development as a fundamental tool for societal inclusion in our country.

Francisco Boza
President of the Peruvian Sports Institute
The three Olympic values of excellence, respect and friendship are those which guide the International Olympic Committee in all the actions it undertakes to create a better world through sport.

The IOC encourages and supports the development of Sport for All. The beneficial effects, for health and for society in general, of regular engagement in physical activity are now well known.

The IOC World Conference on Sport for All offers everyone involved in Sport for All around the world an ideal framework to discuss the latest research, share successful experiences and discover the latest trends. The host city and country also have an opportunity to showcase their own programmes to promote physical activity.

Keep up to date on all the latest news regarding the 15th Conference, taking place from 24 to 27 April 2013 in Lima, on www.sportforall2013.org.

Themes

The IOC World Conference on Sport for All is one of the International Olympic Committee’s key advocacy initiatives in the field of Sport for All.

Organised every two years, the Conference has, since its creation, been dedicated to promoting the broad dissemination of the Sport for All philosophy globally. It supports the promotion of health, fitness and well-being, and aims at encouraging more people of all ages and abilities to participate in sports activities and experience the Olympic values.

The Conference is a platform for sharing experiences and best practices by the various Olympic family constituents, sports organisations, Sport for All bodies, the academic world and institutional partners.

Three themes will be addressed during the 15th Conference in Lima:

Theme 1: Social benefits
- The health, social, education, economic development, environment and sporting benefits of sport and recreation for a community.
- The role of Sport for All projects in the development of social cohesion, cultural and educational values, healthy lifestyles and habits, and the fundamental Olympic values of excellence, friendship and respect.

Theme 2: Sports facilities and public spaces
- The accessibility of facilities – infrastructure and space – to the greatest possible number of individuals, organisations and sectors of sport and recreation across the community and the importance of facilitating access to low-cost or no-cost facilities and public spaces (walkways, river banks, etc.) to provide additional physical activity opportunities.
- The development of innovations, such as modified rules and low-cost equipment, to increase the desirability of taking up and participating in sport and recreational activities, across all age groups and sectors of the community.

Theme 3: Partnerships
- The importance of inter-sectoral cooperation, partnerships and collaboration, particularly between sports organisations and organisations outside the sports sector, and the involvement of families, the education sector, NGOs as well as public and private entities, in increasing the level of participation in regular physical activity.
- The sharing of good, effective programmes and sustainable outcomes, and lessons and experiences by the many sports organisations, governmental agencies and other organisations involved in sport and recreation projects, to provide guidance and knowledge.

Keep up to date on all the latest news regarding the 15th Conference, taking place from 24 to 27 April 2013 in Lima, on www.sportforall2013.org.
The Conference will include four types of sessions:

Plenary sessions
During each of the three plenary sessions, which will be 90 minutes in length, participants will hear presentations by experts in the field of Sport for All from both a practical and theoretical perspective. The list of speakers can be found on page 7.

Breakout sessions
After each plenary session, two breakout sessions will be organised. They will focus on sub-themes related to the topics addressed during the relevant plenary session. The speakers from the plenary sessions will assist in leading the breakout sessions, and will be joined by additional experts on the relevant topics. The breakout sessions will allow for interactive discussions among the participants.

Practical sessions
The practical sessions will provide participants with the opportunity to develop specific skills needed to implement and run successful Sport for All programmes. These sessions will be led by experts in various areas, such as event management, communications, marketing, fundraising, public relations, volunteerism, evaluation and monitoring tools, etc.

Posters
Participants who wish to share their work in the field of Sport for All with the other participants can prepare a poster. Posters will be selected prior to the Conference, based upon a written abstract. Please refer to the call for poster presentations on page 8. The posters will be displayed in a prime area throughout the Conference.

Additional elements of the programme
The Conference programme will also feature the following additional elements:

Sport for All initiatives in Lima and Peru
Participants will have the opportunity to learn about various Sport for All initiatives and activities taking place in Lima and in Peru.

IOC Sport for All Grants
The IOC Sport for All Grant was created by the IOC Sport for All Commission to acknowledge and further encourage the implementation of high-quality programmes in the field of Sport for All. An entire session will be dedicated to the presentation of the case studies receiving the grant. The moderator will lead a panel discussion with the recipients to extract key and unique elements about their projects.

Other activities may be added to the programme. Details will be published under the news section of the Conference website in due course.

The following speakers have already confirmed their participation in the plenary sessions:

Jacques Rogge
IOC President

Timothy Armstrong
Coordinator, Surveillance and Population-based Prevention Unit, Department of Chronic Diseases and Health Promotion, Noncommunicable Diseases and Mental Health, World Health Organization

Please check www.sportforall2013.org for updates!
Sports administrators and practitioners, executives and delegates of International Federations and National Olympic Committees, delegates of sports organisations and institutions involved in Sport for All, researchers and representatives of governments at all levels, are all kindly called upon to submit abstracts for poster presentations at the 15th IOC World Conference on Sport for All.

Abstracts addressing one of the following themes should be submitted:

- social benefits;
- sports facilities and public spaces;
- partnerships.

In addition, bodies responsible for Sport for All in each country at national level (government agencies, sports federations, National Olympic Committees, etc.) are invited to present the situation of Sport for All in the form of a country report which will be displayed during the Conference in the poster area.

Practical-based and scientific submissions are encouraged. In addition, abstracts summarising case studies and examples of Sport for All initiatives are also welcome.

Abstracts for poster presentations will be reviewed by the Conference Programme Committee in accordance with the Rules for Abstract Submission available on the Conference website (www.sportforall2013.org). Posters will be selected on the basis of a number of criteria including originality, impact/importance, relevance, quality and clarity.

Optional tours for accompanying persons (charged separately)

Lima is the only South American capital city on the shores of the Pacific Ocean. It has a privileged location in the heart of the South American Pacific coast, and is at once a cosmopolitan and traditional city. Lima was the jewel in the crown of the Spanish colonies and their richest city for more than 300 years. Instead of building palaces for monarchs, in Lima they built temples to protect major works of art and mansions for the nobility.

In a few words, Lima is a time machine where, in the blink of an eye, you can have one foot in the past and the other firmly in the future. The city of Lima has an underground cemetery, a hotel for celebrities and a group of pyramids overlooking the ocean that are enough to set any time machine spinning.

Route 1: Tour to Pachacamac
- Guided tour to the splendid and extensive archaeological site of Pachacamac, an ancient city venerated by the old Andean people.
- During this visit you will get to see pyramid-shaped temples and buildings constructed by pre-Colombian cultures and the Incas.

   Includes:
   - Excursion to the Pucllana worship site, built in the 4th century, an ancestral and ceremonial site dedicated to local divinities.
   - The tour moves on to the traditional bohemian district of Barranco, known for its famous Suspiros bridge, before continuing along the beaches and finally arriving at the Villa Wetlands Ecological Reserve.

   Departure time: 9:15 am
   Duration: approx. 4 hours
   Price: USD 38 per person
   Dates: 23, 24, 25 or 26 April

Route 2: Peru’s Gold Museum
- This excursion gives you the chance to enjoy a stunning collection of objects, gold pieces and precious metal jewels of incalculable value, made from gold, silver and precious stones. Highlights are the ornaments and objects used by the Incas.

   Includes:
   - A visit to the Aldo & Co. jewellery workshop, where experienced master goldsmiths combine the millenary Inca legacy with the most recent manufacturing techniques to create a fusion with impeccable style.

   Departure time: 2:30 pm
   Duration: approx. 3 and a half hours
   Price: USD 50 per person
   Dates: 23, 24, 25 or 26 April

Machu Picchu
- The Organising Committee has appointed a specialised tour agency who will provide tours to Machu Picchu before and after the Conference.

Please ask for more information during your registration process or directly on the Conference website.
