

INTERNATIONAL OLYMPIC COMMITTEE

FIGHT AGAINST DOPING

Anti-doping Rule Violations during or after the Games

NUMBER OF ANTI-DOPING RULE VIOLATIONS

The following tables provide the number of Anti-doping Rules Violations (ADRVs), recorded during or after the Games, leading to a sanction in relation with the Olympic Games.

WINTER GAMES*

Year	IOC RMA <sup>(1)</sup>		Total
	During the Games	Re-analysis after the Games
1972	1		1
1976	2		2
1984	1		1
1988	1		1
2002	7		7
2006	7		7
2010	3	1	4
2014	8	12	20
2018	4		4

* As of 23 July 2019

SUMMER GAMES*

Year	IOC RMA <sup>(1)</sup>		Total
	During the Games	Re-analysis after the Games
1968	1		1
1972	7		7
1976	11		11
1984	12		12
1988	10		10
1992	5		5
1996	4		4
2000	11		11
2004	17	5	22
2008	7	65	72
2012	9	68	77
2016	8		8

* As of 27 August 2020

(1) IOC RMA: The IOC is the Results Management Authority (RMA) and directly issues a sanction following an ADRV committed during the period of the Games (including potential further analysis after the Games). When the IOC is not the Results Management Authority, it takes action based on the recognition of an ADRV decided by another authority (e.g. WADA, International Federations). We cannot provide exhaustive numbers from the non-IOC RMAs.