A new plan naturally focuses on consolidating the progress made, but also offers new prospects. That is why, with the aim of optimising its services to the NOCs and in a spirit of environmental sustainability, the international office continues to manage all the World Programmes in coordination with the OS offices at the various NOC continental associations, which, for their part, offer specific Continental Programmes.

The “Olympic Solidarity Online Platform” allows the NOCs direct online access to the OS programmes: guidelines, application and report forms.

Caution

- For the NOCs, the main benefits of OS programmes are being given as: assistance, support and guidance. It is not just aid, but advice on how to best use the aid in the NOCs’ activities in order to have the best impact on athletes and sports development. Therefore, we are in line with the belief that the NOCs can only make good use of the aid when they have the necessary knowledge and skills to manage it.

- The NOCs are encouraged to identify their needs and priorities in advance. The OS offices are dedicated to working with the NOCs to deliver the most effective OS programmes.

- The NOCs are encouraged to ensure that they have the necessary knowledge and skills to manage the aid provided by OS, in order to have the best impact on athletes and sports development.
