Introduction:

The academic papers listed in this document are research reports or articles written by researchers and PhD students in the framework of their collaboration with the IOC. The list provides readers with the links to the full electronic documents, which are mainly available through the RERO.Doc platform. This platform, used by the IOC OSC to disseminate academic research on Olympism, is a recognised digital library, whose content is referenced by scientific documentation search engines at international level, such as OAIster and Google Scholar.
