RULES
I - FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES

1. The aims of the Olympic movement are:
   — to promote the development of those physical and moral qualities which are the basis of sport,
   — to educate young people through sport in a spirit of better understanding between each other and of friendship, thereby helping to build a better and more peaceful world,
   — to spread the Olympic principles throughout the world thereby creating international goodwill,
   — to bring together the athletes of the world in a great four-yearly festival of sport.

2. The Olympic Games celebrate an Olympiad or period of four successive years. The first Olympiad of modern times was celebrated in Athens in 1896, and subsequent Olympiads and Games are numbered consecutively from that year, even though it has been impossible to hold the Games in every Olympiad.

3. The Olympic Games take place every four years. They unite Olympic competitors of all nations in fair and equal competition. The International Olympic Committee (IOC) shall secure the widest possible audience for these Games.
   No discrimination in them is allowed against any country or person on grounds of race, religion or politics.

4. The IOC governs the Olympic movement and owns the rights over the Olympic Games and the Olympic Winter Games. Its constitution and powers are set out in the present Rules and bye-laws.
   Every person or organisation that plays any part whatsoever in the Olympic movement shall accept the supreme authority of the IOC and shall be bound by its Rules and submit to its jurisdiction.
   The honour of holding the Games is entrusted to a city and not to a country or area. The choice of a city for the celebration of an Olympiad shall lie solely with the IOC.

   1 See Rule 53 for the duration of the Games.
Application to hold the Games shall be made by the official authority of the city concerned with the approval of the National Olympic Committee (NOC) which must guarantee that the Games shall be organised to the satisfaction of and in accordance with the requirements of the IOC. The NOC and the city chosen shall be jointly and severally responsible for all commitments entered into and shall assume complete financial responsibility for the organisation of the Games.

5 A separate cycle of Olympic Winter Games is held, comprising competitions in winter sports. They are held in the same calendar year as the Olympic Games.

The first Winter Games were held in 1924 during the VIIIth Olympiad. Starting from this date they are numbered in rotation as they are held.

The term Olympiad is not used in connection with the Winter Games.

6 Olympic flag and symbol, motto and emblem *

The Olympic flag, the Olympic symbol and the Olympic motto are the exclusive property of the IOC.

The Olympic flag has a plain white background, with no border to it. In the centre of the flag are five interlaced rings (hereinafter called "the Olympic rings") — blue, yellow, black, green and red — arranged in that order from left to right, the blue coloured ring being placed high up on the left hand side of the flag nearest the flagpole. The flag presented by Baron de Coubertin at the Congress of Paris in 1914 is the regulation model.

The Olympic symbol consists of the Olympic rings alone, whether delineated in a single colour or in different colours.

The Olympic flag and symbol symbolise the union of the five continents and the meeting of athletes from all over the world at the Olympic Games in a spirit of fair and frank competition and good friendship, the ideal preached by Baron de Coubertin.

The Olympic motto "Citius, Altius, Fortius" expresses the aspirations of the Olympic movement.

An Olympic emblem is the combination of the Olympic rings with another distinctive sign.

1 See definition of the Organising Committee (OCOG) in Rule 52 and composition in the chapter : "Conditions laid down for candidate cities".
Olympic flame

The Olympic flame is formally lit in Olympia. The Olympic flame, the Olympic torch and the entire Olympic ceremonial belong to the IOC. Any use or imitation thereof by third parties is strictly forbidden.

* See page 40.

7 Only persons who are eligible within the definition laid down in these Rules may take part in the Olympic Games and Winter Games.

8 Only nationals of a country may represent that country and compete in the Olympic Games and Winter Games, subject to the exceptions stipulated in the bye-law*. In the final resort, questions in dispute shall be settled by the Executive Board.

The expression “country” wherever used in these Rules shall mean any country, state or territory which is accepted by the IOC as constituting the area of jurisdiction of a recognised NOC (see Rule 24).

* See page 41.

9 The Games are contests between individuals and not between countries.

10 The Olympic Games and the Winter Games are the exclusive property of the IOC which owns all rights over their organisation and exploitation and over their reproduction by any means whatsoever. The IOC may grant concessions or licences in respect of these rights.

Any surplus derived from the holding of the Olympic Games and Winter Games must be applied to the promotion of the Olympic movement or to the development of sport.
II - THE INTERNATIONAL OLYMPIC COMMITTEE

II  Juridical status, objects and powers

The IOC was created by the Congress of Paris of 23rd June 1894; it was entrusted with the control and development of the modern Olympic Games.

It is a body corporate by international law having juridical status and perpetual succession. Its headquarters are in Switzerland. It is not formed for profit and has as its aims:

— to encourage the organisation and development of sport and sports competitions;

— to inspire and lead sport within the Olympic ideal, thereby promoting and strengthening friendship between the sportsmen of all countries;

— to ensure the regular celebration of the Games;

— to make the Games ever more worthy of their glorious history and of the high ideals which inspired their revival by Baron Pierre de Coubertin and his associates.

12  Membership

The IOC is a permanent organisation. It selects such persons as it considers qualified to be members, provided that they speak French or English and are citizens of and reside in a country which possesses an NOC recognised by the IOC. The IOC welcomes them into membership with a brief ceremony during which they accept the required obligations and responsibilities

There shall be only one member in any country except in the largest and most active countries in the Olympic movement, and in those where the Olympic Games have been held, where there may be a maximum of two.

Members of the IOC are representatives of the IOC in their countries and not their delegates to the IOC. They may not accept from governments or from any organisations or individuals instructions which shall in any way bind them or interfere with the independence of their vote.

Members who resign after long and active service in the IOC may be considered for election as honorary members. Such honorary members may attend the Olympic Games and the Winter Games under the same conditions as the IOC members.

* See page 42.

13 A member:
— may resign at any time;
— if elected after 1965, must retire upon reaching the age of 72;
— shall cease to be a member if he changes his nationality or no longer lives in his country; fails to attend Sessions or to take any active part in IOC affairs for two years; or by reason of circumstances that may arise, is not in a position properly to carry out his duties as a member;
— shall not be personally liable for the debts and obligations of the IOC;
— may be expelled by resolution of the IOC if in the IOC’s opinion he has betrayed or neglected its interests or has been guilty of unworthy conduct.

14 Organisation

A - Elections
For all elections nominations in writing, signed by at least three members, shall be submitted to the Secretariat and announced by the President the day before the vote.

B - The President
From among its members the IOC elects a President for eight years by secret ballot and by an absolute majority of those present. The President is eligible for re-election for successive terms of four years.

The elected President shall assume office at the end of the Session, or in the case of a Session held during the Olympic Games, after the closing of the Games. However, the elected President attends meetings of the Executive Board immediately after his election.

If the President is unable to fulfil the duties of his office, the senior Vice-President in this capacity acts until a new President is elected at the next IOC Session. This new President thus nominated holds office only for the remainder of the term of the person whose place he takes until the IOC Session at the next Olympic Games. He is eligible for re-election as under para 1 of this rule.
C - The Vice-Presidents

The IOC elects three Vice-Presidents to hold office for a period of four years. They may be re-elected to this post after a minimum interval of four years.

If a Vice-President is unable to fulfil the duties of his office, the IOC elects a new Vice-President at the next IOC Session. This new Vice-President holds office only for the remainder of the term of the person whose place he takes. He is eligible for immediate re-election at the end of his term of office.

Vice-Presidents and members of the Executive Board shall assume office immediately after the end of the Session, or in the case of a Session held at the time of the Olympic Games, after the closing of the Games. However Vice-Presidents may attend meetings of the Executive Board immediately after their election.

The President and the Vice-Presidents are ex officio members of all commissions and sub-committees.

D - The Executive Board

The Executive Board is composed of the President, three Vice-Presidents and five additional members.

The five members are elected to hold office until the IOC Session which shall be held in the fourth year after their election. They retire in rotation.

A retiring member from the Executive Board is not eligible for re-election in the year of his retirement. This does not apply to election to the vice-presidency or presidency.

If a member dies, resigns or is unable to fulfil the duties of his office, or if a vacancy occurs, a new member is elected by the IOC at its next meeting to take his place. The new member holds office only for the remainder of the term of the person whose place he takes. A member so elected is eligible for immediate re-election.

Members of the Executive Board may attend meetings of the Executive Board immediately after their election.

15 For the management of the IOC's current affairs, the Executive Board performs those duties that are assigned to it by the IOC, in particular:

- it must ensure that the Rules are strictly observed;
- it prepares the agenda for the Sessions of the IOC;
— it submits to the IOC the names of the persons whom it recommends for election to it;
— it is responsible for the management of the IOC's finances and makes an annual report;
— it appoints the Directors;
— it accepts the ultimate responsibility for the administration;
— it keeps the IOC's records.

Secretaries, interpreters and other employees are engaged according to the internal regulations in force, as approved by the Executive Board.

16 Supreme jurisdiction

Under the powers delegated to it by the IOC, the Executive Board shall decide all matters of doubt or dispute that are of a non-technical nature concerning the Games and the Olympic movement.

It may take action on its own initiative or upon the request of a member of the IOC, an NOC, an International Federation (IF) or an OCOG.

Its powers and procedures as a disciplinary body shall be exercised in accordance with the bye-law to this rule.

It shall be the interpreter of the Rules.

It applies penalties to organisations and individuals under its jurisdiction who infringe or have infringed the principles governing the Olympic movement and the IOC Rules.

* Note: The bye-law to this rule is the same as to Rule 23.

17 Meetings

A - Executive Board

a) The Executive Board meets when convened by the President.

b) The Executive Board shall hold meetings with the IFs whose sports are included in the Olympic programme. Each IF is entitled to be represented at such meetings by two delegates only.

The Executive Board may also invite other IFs whose rules are accepted as conforming to those of the IOC for the purpose of considering general questions affecting these sports in relation to the Games.
c) The Executive Board shall also hold meetings at least every two years with all NOCs to hear reports on progress of the Olympic movement in their countries, to discuss their problems with them, and hear suggestions for strengthening the Olympic movement and improving the Games.

d) In both cases b) and c), the meetings are convened by the President of the IOC who names the date, place, number of delegates per IF or NOC, takes the chair and settles all matters of procedure. Agendas for these meetings shall be prepared by the Executive Board after consultation with those concerned, and sent out one month before the date fixed for the meeting.

B - Sessions

A general meeting of the members of the IOC, called a Session, shall be held at least once a year. An extraordinary Session of the IOC shall also be held when convened by the President or upon the written requisition of the same number of members of the IOC as is needed to form a quorum at a Session *.

The place at which a Session is to be held shall be fixed by the IOC. The place of an extraordinary Session shall be fixed by the President. Not less than one month's notice of a Session or extraordinary Session shall be given by the President and the notice shall be accompanied by the agenda for the meeting.

A question that has not been included in the agenda for a meeting of a Session may be discussed at the meeting with the approval of the President.

The costs and expenses of organising a Session shall be borne by the host city, as is provided in the chapter “Instructions for Sessions of the International Olympic Committee”.

The President shall declare a Session closed.

C - Congress

The Olympic Congress is convened by the IOC which names the place and date. The IOC President takes the chair and settles all matters of procedure.

The Congress is composed of the members of the IOC, delegates of the IFs and NOCs, representatives of other organisations and individuals invited by the IOC.

The agenda shall be prepared by the IOC after consultation with the IFs and NOCs.

* See Rule 18.
18 At a Session of the IOC, the President, or in his absence one of the Vice-Presidents, shall take the chair. In the absence of the President and the Vice-Presidents, the meeting shall choose one of its members to be the Chairman.

The quorum at the Session of the IOC shall be half the total membership of the IOC for the time being, plus one.

Resolutions (other than a resolution under Rule 22) shall be passed if a majority of the votes cast are in favour. Every member present at a meeting shall have one vote. Proxies are not allowed. A secret ballot shall be taken if the Chairman so decides or if one member demands it. In the event of a tie, the Chairman of the meeting shall have a second or casting vote.

All matters of procedure at Sessions of the IOC not prescribed by these Rules shall be decided by the Chairman of the meeting.

Languages

The official languages of the IOC are French and English. At all IOC Sessions provision shall also be made for the simultaneous translation of the proceedings into Spanish, Russian and German.

In case of a discrepancy between the French and the English texts of these Rules, the French text shall prevail.

19 The President may take action or make a decision where circumstances do not permit it to be taken by the IOC or its Executive Board. Such action or decision is subject to ratification by the IOC at the next Session.

20 Postal vote

The President may submit a resolution (other than a change of rule for which Rule 22 applies) to the members by post in case of urgency. If a majority of those who reply vote in favour of the resolution and not less than half the members plus one in all vote, the resolution is carried. The result shall be reported to the IOC at the next Session.

21 Resources

The IOC may accept gifts and may seek to obtain funds from any other source which shall enable it to fulfil the task it has taken upon itself.
Cities entrusted with the organisation of the Olympic Games and the Winter Games shall be liable to pay to the IOC whatever sum the IOC shall have fixed.

All sums arising out of the celebration of the Olympic Games and the Winter Games belong to the IOC which reserves the right to grant a portion to the OCOG and to allocate a portion to the IFs and the NOCs.

22 Alterations to official text

These Rules may be altered only if two-thirds, and not less than thirty of the IOC members present at a Session vote in favour of the alteration. Bye-laws may be altered by simple majority.

23 Supreme authority

The IOC is the final authority on all questions concerning the Olympic Games and the Olympic movement. On all matters, including matters of discipline affecting all concerned, and for permanent and temporary penalties of all kinds, the heaviest of which are: suspension, expulsion, disqualification, exclusion, the powers of the IOC are paramount. It delegates to the IFs, however, the technical control of the sports which they govern. The delegation of jurisdictional power is set out in a bye-law *.

* See page 43.
III - THE NATIONAL OLYMPIC COMMITTEES

24 * A - Principles

For the furtherance of the Olympic movement throughout the world, the IOC shall recognise as NOCs entitled to call themselves by that name, committees that are established in accordance with the under-mentioned principles, that conform to the Rules and bye-laws of the IOC, and having, if possible, judicial status.

B - Objects

The object of NOCs, in accordance with the fundamental principles contained in these Rules, shall be to ensure the development and safeguarding of the Olympic movement and sport. NOCs shall be the sole authorities responsible for the representation of their respective countries at the Olympic Games as well as at other events held under the patronage of the IOC, and to see that arrangements are made for the organisation of the Olympic Games and the Winter Games and the other events mentioned above when they are held in their own country.

C - Autonomy

NOCs must be autonomous and must resist all pressures of any kind whatsoever, whether of a political, religious or economic nature. In pursuing their objectives, NOCs may co-operate with private or government organisations. However, they must never associate themselves with any undertaking which would be in conflict with the principles of the Olympic movement and with the Rules of the IOC.

D - Composition

Whatever form their constitution may take, NOCs must in any event include in their membership:

— the members of the IOC in their country, if any. Such IOC members shall, as of right, also be members of the Executive Committee (inner committee, administrative committee or the executive) and shall have the right to vote on it;

— the national federations or representatives of the national federations which are included in the Olympic programme and are affiliated to the IFs recognised by the IOC as controlling their sport (with a minimum of five). Such national federations or their representatives must also constitute a voting majority on this NOC and its Executive Board.

E - Name

The name of an NOC must reflect the territorial extent and tradition of that country, and must be approved by the IOC.

* See page 45.

 Jurisdiction

The provisions of Rule 23 shall apply to NOCs, their individual members, athletes, officials, team managers and all persons or bodies to whom the IOC or the NOCs shall delegate authority and who infringed the principles of the Olympic movement or the Rules of the IOC, to the extent that they shall be liable to penalties and to be held responsible for the consequences of these infringements.

No competitor, team or delegation may withdraw from the Olympic Games or the Winter Games once final entries have been made, except in the case of illness or force majeure. Any such withdrawals shall render the individual competitor, team or NOC liable to sanctions under this rule.

In addition, the NOC of a country where the Games are held may have its recognition withdrawn or have penalties imposed on it under this Rule in the event of the OCOG not fulfilling the conditions under which the Games were allocated.

* The delegation of jurisdictional power is set out in a bye-law, page 47.
IV - THE OLYMPIC GAMES

26  Eligibility code

To be eligible for participation in the Olympic Games, a competitor must:
— observe and abide by the Rules of the IOC and in addition the rules of his or her IF, as approved by the IOC, even if the federation’s rules are more strict than those of the IOC;
— not have received any financial rewards or material benefit in connection with his or her sports participation, except as permitted in the bye-laws to this rule. *

* See page 47.

27  Medical code *

A - Doping is forbidden. The IOC shall prepare a list of prohibited drugs.

B - All Olympic competitors are liable to medical control and examination carried out in conformity with the rules of the IOC Medical Commission.

C - Any Olympic competitor refusing to submit to a medical control or examination or who is found guilty of doping shall be excluded.
If the Olympic competitor is a member of a team, the match, competition or event during which the infringement took place shall be forfeited by that team.
After the explanations of the team have been considered and the case discussed with the IF concerned, a team in which one or more members have been found guilty of doping may be excluded from the Games in which it is participating.
In sports in which a team may no longer compete after a member has been excluded, the remaining members may compete in an individual capacity.

D - Competitors in sports restricted to women must comply with the prescribed tests for femininity.

E - A medal may be withdrawn by order of the Executive Board on a proposal of the IOC Medical Commission.
F - A Medical Commission may be set up to implement these Rules. Members of this commission may not act as team doctors.

G - The above regulations shall in no way affect further sanctions by the IFs.

* The “IOC Medical Controls” brochure shall be deemed to be a bye-law to Rule 27. Copies of this brochure are available from the IOC.

28 Age limit

No age limit for competitors in the Olympic Games and the Winter Games is stipulated by the IOC, unless there is an agreement between the IOC and the relevant IF to the contrary.

29 International Sports Federations *

The following International Sports Federations governing Olympic sports are recognised by the IOC:

- International Amateur Athletic Federation (IAAF)
- International Rowing Federation (FISA)
- International Amateur Basketball Federation (FIBA)
- International Bobsleigh and Tobogganing Federation (FIBT)

- International Fencing Federation (FIE)
- International Association Football Federation (FIFA)
- International Gymnastics Federation (FIG)
- International Handball Federation (IHF)
- International Weightlifting Federation (IWF)
- International Hockey Federation (FIH)
- International Ice Hockey Federation (IIHF)
- International Judo Federation (IJF)
- International Luge Federation (FIL)
- International Amateur Wrestling Federation (FILA)
- International Amateur Swimming Federation (FINA)
- International Skating Union (ISU)
International Modern Pentathlon and Biathlon Union (UIPMB)
International Skiing Federation (FIS)
International Shooting Union (UIT)
International Archery Federation (FITA)
International Volleyball Federation (FIVB)
International Yacht Racing Union (IYRU)

* See bye-laws headed "Criteria" page 49.

30 Programme

The official programme shall include at least fifteen of the following sports: archery; athletics; basketball; boxing; canoeing; cycling; equestrian sports; fencing; football; gymnastics; handball; hockey; judo; modern pentathlon; rowing; shooting; swimming, including diving and water polo; volleyball; weightlifting; wrestling; yachting.

31 Participation of women

Women are allowed to compete according to the rules of the IF concerned and after the approval of the IOC.

32 Admission of sports

Only sports widely practised * in at least forty countries and three continents may be included in the programme of the Olympic Games.

Only sports widely practised by men in at least twenty-five countries and two continents may be included in the programme of the Winter Games.

Only sports widely practised by women in twenty-five countries and two continents may be included in the programme of the Olympic Games, and sports practised in twenty countries and two continents in the programme of the Winter Games.

* Widely practised means:
  a) national championships or cups permanently organised by the respective national sports federations;
  b) international participation and the holding of Regional and/or world championships in the respective sports.

Events

The IOC in consultation with the IFs concerned shall decide the events which shall be included in each sport, in bearing with the global aspect of the Olympic programme and statistical data referring to the number of participating countries in each event of the Olympic programme, of the world championships, of Regional Games and all other competitions under the patronage of the IOC and the patronage of the IFs for a period of one Olympiad (4 years).

Team sports

There shall be 12 teams for sports in which only men participate, except for football where there shall be 16 teams.

There shall be 18 teams for sports in which men and women compete, provided that the number of women’s teams is not less than 6.

It is the duty of the IF concerned to determine the number of men’s and women’s teams within the prescribed limits.

Winter Games

The programme for the Winter Games may include: biathlon, bobsleigh, ice hockey, luge, skating and skiing.

In each sport, the events are governed by the technical rules of the IF concerned.

The medals and diplomas must be different from those of the Olympic Games. The Winter Games are governed by the rules adopted for the Olympic Games except where special provision is made.

Establishment and revision of the Olympic programme

The programme of sports and events will be fixed by the IOC at the time the invitations to stage the Games are considered. No changes are permitted thereafter.

The IOC reviews the Olympic programme after the celebration of an Olympic Games. It has the right to eliminate sports and/or events in which there is insufficient international interest, according to the above-mentioned standards for the admission of sports, or which are not properly controlled according to the Olympic Rules.

National art exhibitions

The OCOG shall arrange, subject to the approval of the IOC, exhibitions and demonstrations of national art (architecture, literature, music, painting, sculpture, photography and sports philately) and fix the dates during which these exhibitions and demonstrations shall take place. The programme may also include theatrical, ballet, opera performances, or symphony concerts.

This section of the programme shall be of an equal standard and held concurrently and in the same vicinity as the sports events. It shall receive full recognition in the publicity released by the OCOG.

35 Entry forms

Since only NOCs recognised by the IOC may enter competitors in the Olympic Games and the Winter Games, a country without an NOC must form such a Committee and have it recognised by the IOC before it is permitted to take part in the Games.

National federations forward entries to the NOCs for transmission, if approved, to the OCOG. The OCOG must acknowledge them. NOCs must investigate the eligibility of entrants proposed by national federations and ensure that no one has been excluded for racial, religious or political reasons.

An appeal against a decision by an NOC on the matter of entries may be made by a national federation through its IF to the IOC.

The list of the sports and the events in which a country shall participate must be submitted to the OCOG at least eight weeks before the date of the opening of the Games. This list may be telegraphed, but must be confirmed subsequently in writing. The number of the competitors to take part in the Games which, by Rule 36, must not exceed the number permitted for each event, together with the names of the competitors in each sport and in each event, shall be notified to the OCOG at least ten days before the date on which the Olympic competitions in the relevant sport are due to begin, or by such later date (if any) as may have been previously fixed by the IF governing that sport by agreement with the OCOG. All entries must be printed or typewritten in duplicate on a special form approved by the IOC.

As a condition precedent to participation in the Olympic Games and the Winter Games, a competitor must conform with the provisions contained in Rules 8 and 26. He must be an approved competitor in the eyes of the IF that is recognised by the IOC as governing his sport.

Should there be no national federation for a particular sport in a country which has a recognised NOC, the latter Committee may enter competitors individually in that sport in the Olympic Games subject to the approval of the IOC and the IF governing that sport.

NOCs are reminded that, while the Olympic Games welcome the youth of the world, it is a physical impossibility to accommodate all the youth of the world and they are asked to use discretion and send to the Games only competitors of Olympic standard.

The entry form must include the text of the eligibility code and the following declaration to be signed by the competitor:

"I, the undersigned, declare that I have read the eligibility conditions for the Olympic Games and that I comply with them. I agree to be filmed and photographed during the Games under the conditions and for the purposes authorised by the International Olympic Committee, and to observe the provisions of article 49 of the IOC Rules concerning the press, television and the Olympic film."

The relevant national federation and NOC shall also sign this form to confirm that they have brought all the Rules to the notice of the competitor.

No entry shall be valid unless the above Rules shall have been observed.

The withdrawal of a delegation or of a team or individual duly entered for the Games which shall have been effected without the consent of the IOC shall constitute a breach of the Rules of the IOC and may be the subject of disciplinary action.

36 Number of entries

The maximum number of entries from each NOC in each event is fixed by the IOC in consultation with the appropriate IF. The following numbers cannot be exceeded:

a) for individual events, three competitors from each country (without reserves) in both Olympic and Winter Games (except in skiing where four are permitted);

b) for team sports, one team per country, the number of reserves to be decided by the IOC in consultation with the IF concerned.

37 Travelling expenses

The OCOG shall ensure that all expenses for competitors and officials that are within its jurisdiction, particularly housing expenses, are kept to a minimum.
Identity documents

The Olympic identity card establishes the identity of its holder and constitutes the document authorising entry into the country in which the city organising the Games is situated. It allows the holder to stay and to carry out his Olympic duties there for the duration of the Games and for a period not exceeding one month before and one month after the Games.

The Olympic identity card also allows free entry to the Olympic villages and it authorises access to the sites where the competitions, ceremonies and demonstrations connected with the Games are held, and also to the reserved seats in the stands, unless the OCOG shall decide to issue an additional identity card for these two purposes.

With the agreement of the IOC, and in special cases, the OCOG may request that the Olympic identity card be countersigned on behalf of the government of the country of the holder confirming the holder's nationality and his right to travel to the country of the Games and to return to his own country. In the absence of such a countersignature, the holder of an Olympic identity card must have in his possession an official document confirming his identity and nationality.

The Olympic identity card shall be made available by the OCOG for use by the persons as indicated in the bye-law page 50.

Olympic villages and housing

The OCOG shall provide one Olympic village for men and another for women so that competitors and team officials can be housed together and fed at a reasonable price unless under special circumstances which the IOC would agree to consider. The Olympic villages shall be at the disposal of the teams for at least three weeks before the opening ceremony and four days after the closing ceremony of the Games.

If some competitors should not live in the Olympic villages, their rooms shall remain allocated to them, and the cost of the rooms shall be the liability of their respective NOCs. In the event of the IOC authorising an OCOG to hold any events elsewhere than in the Olympic city, official accommodation shall be provided for the competitors and the team officials concerned under the same conditions as are mentioned above.

The villages shall be located as close as possible to the main stadium, practice fields and other facilities.

Arrangements shall also be made for the accommodation of the judges, umpires, referees, inspectors, timekeepers etc., appointed by the IF within the limits approved by the IOC. (See Rules 41 and 42.)
Personnel attached to teams

Only competitors and those serving the competitors with definite duties may live in the Olympic villages.

The OCOG must accommodate or provide accommodation in the Olympic villages for the personnel attached to teams who have been nominated by NOCs and stipulated by the IOC according to the quotas set out in the bye-law page 52.

Technical delegates

Each IF recognised by the IOC has full control of the technical direction of its sport, and all grounds, tracks, courses and equipment must conform to its rules. It may send two representatives while these facilities are being planned and constructed to check that its regulations are followed and to check the living accommodation including eating and transportation facilities for technical officials and judges as mentioned in Rule 42. The expenses of its representatives (transportation by first class air fare if the distance exceeds 2400 km, or tourist class, board and lodging) shall be paid by the OCOG.

It must send two representatives at least five days before the beginning of the first event of their sport in order to check and arrange the entries. The expenses (transportation by first class air fare if the distance exceeds 2400 km, or tourist class, board and lodging) of its representatives until the closing of the Games shall also be paid by the OCOG.

In exceptional cases, if for technical reasons the presence of additional delegates is necessary, the appropriate arrangements shall be made with the OCOG; the IOC must be previously informed. In cases of disagreement, the IOC shall decide.

Technical officials and juries

The necessary technical officials (referees, judges, umpires, timekeepers, inspectors, etc., and a jury for each sport) shall be appointed by the appropriate IF which shall direct their work in conjunction with the OCOG.

The officials and the members of the juries must have never been professionals in sport.

No official who has participated in a decision may serve on the jury that reviews it.
The findings of the jury shall be communicated as soon as possible to the IOC.

The jury decides all technical questions concerning its respective sport and its decisions, including decisions of a disciplinary nature, are final. They shall, however, be without prejudice to any further penalty which may be imposed by the IOC.

Technical officials and jury members may not live in the Olympic villages, but the OCOG shall ensure that living accommodation, including dining and transportation facilities at reasonable cost, is available. Their number for each sport must not exceed the number agreed between the IOC and the respective IFs. These people are not included in the table given in the bye-law to Rule 40.

These technical officials and jury members are not part of the NOCs’ delegations but are under the responsibility of their respective IFs.

43 Penalties in case of infringement of the IOC Rules

A competitor found guilty of having knowingly infringed the Olympic Rules and bye-laws shall be disqualified and lose any position that he may have gained. If this competitor’s NOC or national federation is found guilty of having been party to the infringement, the NOC may be suspended and the entire team in the sport involved may also be disqualified.

44 Final Court of Appeal

The Executive Board of the IOC decides all matters of controversy of a non-technical nature concerning the Games. (Such matters may be submitted only by NOCs, IFs or the OCOG.) In addition the Executive Board may intervene in all questions of a non-technical nature.

45 Prizes

The prizes at the Olympic Games shall be provided by the OCOG for distribution by the IOC. They consist of medals and diplomas. In individual events the first prize shall be a silver-gilt medal and a diploma, the second prize a silver medal and a diploma, and the third prize a bronze medal and a diploma. The medals must bear the name of the sport concerned and be fastened to a detachable chain or ribbon to be hung around the neck of the athlete. Diplomas but not medals shall also be awarded for the fourth, fifth and sixth places. All participants in a tie for first, second and third places shall be entitled to receive a medal and a diploma.

Prize medals shall be at least 60 mm. in diameter and 3 mm. thick. The first and second place medals shall be of silver of a fineness of at least 925/1000 and the first place medal shall be heavily gilded contain­ing at least 6 grammes of pure gold.

In team sports and in team events included in other sports, except those of an “artificial” nature (i.e. those in which placings are determined by position of the contestant in the individual competition), each member of a winning team participating in at least one match or competition held during the Olympic Games shall be awarded a silver-gilt medal and a diploma, each member of the second team a silver medal and a diploma, and each member of the third team a bronze medal and a diploma. The other members of these teams are awarded diplomas but no medals. In “artificial” team events only one medal shall be given to the team and its members shall receive diplomas only. Members of teams placed fourth, fifth and sixth shall be awarded diplomas only.

All competitors and officials in the Games shall receive a diploma and a commemorative medal.

The names of all winners shall be inscribed upon the walls of the main stadium where the Games have taken place.

Diplomas and commemorative medals shall be given to all non-com­petitors who are officially attached to Olympic teams and are recognised by the NOC of their country within the limits of the numbers laid down in Rule 40 and its bye-law.

The members of the IOC, the Presidents and Secretaries General of the IFs recognised by the IOC who are present at the Games, as well as judges, referees, timekeepers, inspectors, umpires etc., officiating at the Games and officially appointed by the IOC shall also be given diplomas and commemorative medals according to scales fixed by the IOC.

No diplomas or commemorative medals shall be awarded to com­petitors or members of an NOC who did not take any part in the Games or who withdrew from them.

No prizes or awards other than those described above shall be given at the Games, and all surplus medals and diplomas shall be delivered up to the IOC.

If an Olympic competitor is disqualified, his medal and diploma must be returned to the IOC. If this is not done, the NOC shall be liable to suspension.
The OCOG shall ensure that a valid assignment of the copyright in the medals referred to in this rule is made by all the designers thereof in favour of the IOC which shall de facto be the recognised owner of the copyright. If the law of the country requires that an assignment must be made in writing, the OCOG shall be obliged to draw up the necessary document to have it signed by all necessary parties and deliver it to the IOC which shall thereupon be the sole person entitled to make any disposition of such copyright.

The OCOG must hand over the casts of all medals to the IOC after the Games.

46 Roll of honour

The Olympic Games are not contests between nations and no scoring by countries is recognised. A roll of honour of the names of the first six competitors in each event shall be compiled by the OCOG and delivered to the IOC.

47 Attachés

In order to facilitate co-operation between the OCOG and the NOCs, the latter, after consultation with the former, shall appoint an "attaché" to their country. The attaché should speak the language of the country to which he is attached.

He shall act as a liaison between the OCOG and the NOC to which he is attached and shall be in continuous contact with both Committees in order to assist with the travelling and housing arrangements and to help solve any problems which may arise.

48 Reserved seats

Free seats shall be reserved as stipulated in the bye-law, page 53.

49 Mass media *

Accreditation

In order to ensure the fullest news coverage and the widest possible audience for the Olympic Games and the Winter Games, the necessary steps shall be taken to accredit the representatives of the different mass media so that they can attend the competitions, demonstrations and ceremonies accompanying the Games. The Executive Board of the IOC, whose decision shall be final and binding, reserves the right to grant or to refuse accreditation in the case of any applicant or to withdraw any accreditation already granted.

The purpose of accreditation is to facilitate the reporting of the Games subject to the conditions laid down by the IOC in the bye-law to this rule.

Under no circumstance, throughout the duration of the Olympic Games and the Winter Games, may any participating athlete, trainer, official, etc. be accredited or act as a journalist or photographer.

Television news reporting

Without prejudice to the granting of exclusive rights as defined hereafter, the showing, free of charge, of newsreel covering the Games is authorised in regular news programmes in which the actual news element constitutes the main feature, whether in cinemas, over the whole of a television network or on a single station, but shall be limited to three reports of three minutes each per day, separated by an interval of at least three hours.

Broadcasting and distribution

The IOC may, subject to payment, grant the right to broadcast and/or distribute reports on the Olympic Games and the Winter Games. The total amount for the broadcasting and distribution rights shall be paid, by the bodies to which the rights have been granted, to the IOC which shall distribute them, in accordance with the requirements set out in Rule 21.

The IOC may grant a broadcasting and/or distribution organisation the exclusive right to broadcast and/or distribute the Games on its national territory. In the case of broadcasting rights, no other broadcasting organisation, notwithstanding the "news reporting" paragraph above, may broadcast on that territory the coverage of any Olympic event before the organisation that has acquired the exclusive rights for that territory has completed the whole of its daily news broadcastings on the day on which it broadcasts its coverage of the said event. This prohibition shall cease at the latest forty-eight hours after the end of the event or ceremony in question.

No broadcasting and/or distribution organisation may, without the approval of the IOC, assign to a third party any rights which it acquired under the above provisions.
All agreements with radio/television networks, whatever their terms, shall only be negotiated jointly by the IOC and the OCOG.

The scheme for sharing the sums negotiated by the IOC with the television networks shall not take account of the technical facilities which shall be provided at the sole expense of the OCOG.

Films

Each Olympic Games and Winter Games shall be recorded for posterity by the Olympic film and the technical films, according to the bye-law to this rule, page 55.

* See also bye-law page 55 and the "Conditions laid down for candidate cities" page 78.

50 The Rules affecting the administration and organisation of the Olympic Games and the Winter Games may not be changed at the two Sessions prior to the year of the organisation of the Games. This rule shall not apply to the bye-laws.
V - ORGANISATION OF THE GAMES

51 The IOC shall select the city in which the Olympic Games and the city in which the Winter Games take place at a Session to be held in a country, no city of which is a candidate for the Games. The selection, save in exceptional circumstances, shall be made at least six years in advance.

The organisation of the Games shall be entrusted by the IOC to the NOC of the country in which the chosen city is situated. Such NOC may delegate the duties with which it has been entrusted to an "ad hoc" Organising Committee (OCOG) which shall thereafter communicate directly with the IOC as long as that OCOG undertakes responsibility for all the obligations of the city to which the Games have been awarded.

Any city submitting a bid to organise the Games shall undertake in writing to observe the "Conditions laid down for candidate cities", page 78.

In the event of a breach of the Rules being committed or a failure to observe the duties and obligations that have been entered into, the IOC may, pursuant to Rules 23 and 25, withdraw the organisation of the Games from the city and from the NOC concerned. Such a withdrawal shall be without prejudice to any liability for loss or damage thereby caused to the IOC or to any other person for which the NOC or its agents may be held liable.

52 Definition of the Organising Committee

The Organising Committee (OCOG), which must possess legal personality, shall be the executive body appointed by the IOC to organise the Games on its behalf and to be responsible for all the physical problems of organisation. It shall function by virtue of the powers which shall have been delegated to it by the IOC within prescribed limits, and it cannot usurp the powers and responsibilities of the IOC.

The IOC member or members in the country and the President and/or Secretary General of the NOC must be included on its Executive Board or Management Committee.

The OCOG shall enter into liquidation one year after the Games have taken place, and it shall not thereafter carry on business except for the purposes of winding up. It must settle all outstanding questions and disputes concerning the Games to the satisfaction of the IOC. As soon as the OCOG shall have been wound up, the NOC shall, without prejudice to Rule 4, take over any rights and obligations entered into by the OCOG.
53 Time and duration of the Olympic Games and the Winter Games

The Olympic Games must take place during the first year of the Olympiad which they are to celebrate (e.g. in 1912 for the Vth Olympiad, or in 1972 for the XXth). In no circumstances may they be postponed to another year. Their non-celebration during the first year of an Olympiad entails the non-celebration of that Olympiad and involves the cancellation of the rights of the city chosen. These rights cannot be carried forward to the next Olympiad.

The time of the year at which the Olympic Games are to be held is not permanently fixed but shall be proposed to the IOC by the OCOG for its approval. The IOC alone shall decide the matter.

The period of the Olympic Games must not exceed sixteen days, including the opening day. If there are no competitions on Sundays, the duration may be extended accordingly.

The Winter Games must be limited to twelve days.

The official ending of the Games shall be when the Olympic flame is extinguished.

54 Olympic city

The events must all take place in or as near as possible to the city chosen and preferably at or near the main stadium. The city chosen cannot share its privilege with another nor can it permit any deviation from the programme or from the Olympic Rules.

No other international events may be scheduled in or near the Olympic city during the period of the Games, or during the preceding or following week.

55 Programme

For all the technical arrangements of the Games, the OCOG must consult the IFs concerned. It must see that all the different branches of sport are placed on the same footing.

It is responsible for the integration of the various sports into the programme, but it shall meet the wishes of the IFs as far as possible. The final decision on any conflict of views is made by the IOC. The order of all competitions within each sport is the responsibility of the IF concerned after consultation with the OCOG.

The OCOG must arrange and supervise the programme of national art which forms an essential part of the Games.
For each sport an explanatory brochure, containing the general programme and arrangements, shall be printed in French and English, as well as in the language of the country in which the Games are being held. It is distributed by the OCOG to the IOC, the IF concerned and to all NOCs not less than one year before the Games open.

A full and complete printed report must be prepared for the IOC and written in its two official languages, French and English, and eventually in the language of the country in which the Games were held, within two years after the close of the Games.

This report shall be distributed free of charge to each IOC member, to each honorary member, to each IF on the Olympic programme and to each NOC which took part in the Games. Several copies must also be delivered free of charge to the IOC General Secretariat.

The official programme as well as all other official literature shall not contain any advertising material.

Every kind of demonstration or propaganda, whether political, religious or racial, is forbidden in the Olympic areas.

No publicity whatsoever shall be allowed in the sky above the stadia and other Olympic areas, since this is part of the Olympic sites.

Commercial installations and advertising signs shall not be permitted inside the stadium or other sports arenas.

No advertising is permitted on equipment used in the Games nor on the uniforms or numbers worn by contestants or officials, in fact nothing may be worn on the uniforms of contestants or officials except the flag or emblem of the NOC which must meet with the approval of the IOC.

The trade marks even on timing equipment and scoreboards may on no account be larger than 1/10th of the height of the equipment itself, and shall never be greater than 10 cm. high.

All contracts that contain any element whatsoever of advertising or are related to publicity must, before they are entered into, be submitted to the IOC for its necessary consent.

The display of any clothing or equipment such as shoes, skis, handbags, hats, etc. marked conspicuously for advertising purposes in any Olympic venue (training grounds, Olympic villages or fields of competition), by participants whether competitors, coaches, trainers or anyone else associated with an Olympic team in an official capacity, shall normally result in immediate disqualification or withdrawal of credentials.
Emblems

The OCOG may use the emblem of the Games (see bye-law to Rule 6) for publicity or commercial purposes. Any use shall be submitted to the IOC in advance for approval. The OCOG shall ensure the protection of the Olympic emblem and the emblem of the Games by the government of its country for the IOC.

It cannot authorise the use of the emblem of the Games for publicity or commercial purposes in the countries or territories of any other NOC without the permission of that NOC and the approval of the IOC.

If permission to use the emblem of the Games for publicity purposes has been granted by the IOC, the OCOG shall give to the NOC concerned the right to register that emblem as a trade mark or to take any other steps that may be necessary to avoid any improper use thereof.

During the Games and for the period of preparation for them and for the two years after they have ended, the OCOG, and then the NOC, are authorised to exploit the official emblems and all badges, posters, objects and documents which it designs, creates, publishes or reproduces for the purpose of the Games.

The OCOG shall take all steps that may be required in order to ensure all rights and property of the official emblems of the Games and other things mentioned above, for the benefit of the IOC and to ensure their necessary protection.

The same directives apply to the Organising Committee of each Session for all printed material and other items as mentioned above.

Music and fanfares

The IOC shall be the owner of the copyright in all musical compositions. For a period of four years, commencing from the closing of the Games, the IOC shall grant all rights of reproduction to the OCOG against payment of a royalty on the gross receipts derived therefrom. The IOC shall authorise the OCOG to make use of the Olympic hymn during the period of the Games without payment of royalty therefor.

Responsibilities prior to and following the Games

Publicity for any Olympic Games should not be released before the conclusion of the preceding Olympic Games.
A final report and recommendations shall be presented to the IOC by the OCOG, during the Session following the Games. These reports shall include the audited accounts.

60 Invitations and forms

The invitations to take part in the Games must be sent out by the OCOG on the instructions of the IOC. They are addressed to the recognised NOC of each country and must be drawn up in the following terms: “In accordance with the instructions given by the International Olympic Committee the Organising Committee of the Games of the ... Olympiad has the honour to invite you to participate in the competitions and celebrations which will take place at ... from ... to ...”

All invitations must be sent simultaneously by registered airmail and not through diplomatic channels. Personal presentations of invitations must not be made.

All documents (invitations, entries, entrance tickets, programmes, etc.) printed for the Games, as well as the badges distributed, must bear the number of the Olympiad and the name of the city where it is celebrated (e.g. Games of the XXIst Olympiad, Montreal 1976). In the case of the Winter Games the name of the city and the number of the Games should be used (e.g. XIIth Olympic Winter Games, Innsbruck 1976).

61 Olympic flag

In the Olympic city the Olympic flag must be flown freely where other flags are displayed.

Both in the stadium and in its neighbourhood the Olympic flag must be flown freely with the flags of all the participating countries.

A large Olympic flag must fly during the Games from a flagpole placed in a central position in the middle of the stadium where it shall be hoisted at the moment the Games are declared open and struck when they are declared closed.

62 Olympic flame

The OCOG shall be responsible for the arrangements for bringing the Olympic flame from Olympia to the stadium. The celebrations to which its journey or its arrival give rise, under the auspices of the relevant NOC, shall observe the Olympic protocol and may not be the occasion for advertising.

There shall only be one Olympic flame, except by special leave of the IOC.

The flame must be in a prominent position and clearly visible from within the main stadium and, where the structure of the stadium permits, visible also from outside the stadium.

63 Opening ceremony

The sovereign or Head of State who has been invited to open the Games shall be received at the entrance of the stadium by the President of the IOC and by the President of the OCOG who shall then present the members of their respective Executive Boards. The two Presidents shall conduct the sovereign or Head of State and his retinue to his box in the stand of honour where he shall be greeted with the national anthem of his country.

The parade of the competitors and officials shall then follow. Each delegation dressed in its official uniform must be preceded by a name-board bearing the name of the country under which it is recognised and must be accompanied by its flag. The delegations shall parade in alphabetical order according to the language of the country organising the Games, except that Greece shall lead the parade and the organising country shall bring up the rear. Only those who are competing in the Games, accompanied by no more than four officials in each delegation, shall parade.

The delegations shall salute the sovereign or Head of State of the country by turning their heads toward his box. The flags of the participating delegations, as well as the name-boards and their bearers, shall be furnished by the OCOG and shall all be of equal size. Each delegation, after completing its march around the stadium, shall line up in the centre of the field and maintain its position in a column behind its name-board and flag facing the stand of honour.

It is forbidden for any participant in the parade to carry cameras on the field during the opening and closing ceremonies.

The President of the OCOG, accompanied by the President of the IOC, shall then proceed to the rostrum placed on the field in front of the stand of honour where he shall introduce the President of the IOC in the following words:

"I have the honour to introduce ..., President of the International Olympic Committee, to whom I extend the warmest welcome."
The President of the IOC shall then mount the rostrum and deliver a brief speech of welcome, of not more than three minutes, concluding with the words:

“I have the honour to invite . . . (the sovereign or Head of State) to proclaim open the Games of the . . . Olympiad of the modern era, initiated by Baron Pierre de Coubertin in 1896 (or of the . . . Olympic Winter Games).”

The sovereign or Head of State shall then say:

“I declare open the Olympic Games of . . . celebrating the . . . Olympiad of the modern era (or the . . . Olympic Winter Games).”

Immediately a fanfare of trumpets shall be sounded and, to the strains of the Olympic hymn, the Olympic flag shall be slowly raised on the flagpole erected in the arena. The Mayor of the city shall then join the President of the IOC on the rostrum. A representative of the city where the previous Olympic Games were held shall deliver the official Olympic flag (of embroidered satin presented in 1920 by the Belgian Olympic Committee) to the President of the IOC who shall hand it over to the Mayor. (For the Olympic Winter Games there is another flag, presented in 1952 by the city of Oslo.) This flag must be kept in the principal building of the city until the next Games.

A salute of three guns shall be fired.

The Olympic torch shall then arrive, brought from Olympia by a relay of runners, the last of which, after circling the track, shall light the Olympic flame which shall not be extinguished until the close of the Games.

If there is to be a religious ceremony (which shall last not more than three minutes) this shall then take place.

The solemn Olympic oath shall be then taken in the following ceremony:

The flag bearers of all countries shall advance and form a semicircle around the rostrum; an athlete of the host country shall then advance to the rostrum accompanied by the flag bearer of his country; he shall mount the rostrum and, holding a corner of the flag in his left hand, and removing his hat, shall raise his right hand and take the following oath on behalf of all the athletes:

“In the name of all the competitors I promise that we shall take part in these Olympic Games, respecting and abiding by the rules which govern them, in the true spirit of sportsmanship, for the glory of sport and the honour of our teams.”
Immediately after, a judge of the host country shall then advance to the rostrum and similarly take the following oath on behalf of all the judges and officials:

"In the name of all the judges and officials, I promise that we shall officiate in these Olympic Games with complete impartiality, respecting and abiding by the rules which govern them, in the true spirit of sportsmanship."

The national anthem of the host country shall then be played or sung. The participants shall then leave the arena by the shortest route.

The ceremony having so come to an end the competitions may commence, or demonstrations or some gymnastic exhibitions may take place.

In the case of an opening ceremony being authorised by the IOC to be held at a secondary Olympic venue, the rules of protocol described above shall not apply, but the OCOG must submit details of the ceremony to the IOC in advance.

64 Victory ceremony

The medals shall be presented during the Games by the President of the IOC (or a member selected by him), accompanied by the President (or his deputy) of the IF concerned, if possible immediately after the event at the place where the competition was held and in the following manner: the competitors who have been judged first, second and third take their places, in their official uniform, on a stand in the stadium facing the stand of honour, with the winner slightly above the second who is on his right, and the third who is on his left. The flag of the winner's country shall be hoisted on the central flagpole and those of the second and third on adjoining flagpoles on the right and on the left, as they face the arena. Meanwhile the national anthem (abbreviated) of the winner's country is played, during which the three competitors and the spectators shall face the flags.

65 Closing ceremony

This ceremony must take place in the stadium at the conclusion of the last event. The bearers of the flags of the participating delegations shall march into the arena in single file behind bearers of their name-boards in the same order and shall take up the same positions in the centre of the field as in the opening ceremony. Behind them six competitors of each delegation who came to participate in the Games shall march, eight or ten abreast, without distinction of nationality united only by the friendly bonds of Olympic sport.

The flag bearers shall then form a semicircle behind the rostrum. The President of the IOC shall then proceed to the foot of the rostrum. To the strains of the Greek national anthem, the Greek flag shall then be hoisted on the flagpole that stands to the right of the central flagpole used to hoist the winners’ flags. The flag of the host country shall then be hoisted on the central flagpole, while its national anthem is played. Finally the national flag of the city selected to organise the next Games shall be hoisted on the left hand flagpole to the strains of its national anthem.

The President of the IOC shall then mount the rostrum and pronounce the closing of the Games in the following words:

“In the name of the International Olympic Committee I offer to ... and to the people of ... (name of the sovereign or Head of State and name of the country), to the authorities of the city of ... (name of the city) and to the Organising Committee of the Games, our deepest gratitude. I thank the competitors, officials, spectators, the media and all those who have contributed to the success of these Games. I declare the Games of the ... Olympiad (or the ... Olympic Winter Games) closed and, in accordance with tradition, I call upon the youth of all countries to assemble four years from now at ... (in case the city has not yet been chosen, the name of the city is replaced by the words: the place to be chosen), there to celebrate with us the Games of the ... Olympiad (or the ... Olympic Winter Games).”

A fanfare shall then be sounded and the Olympic flame extinguished, and to the strains of the Olympic hymn the Olympic flag shall slowly be lowered from the flagpole and carried horizontally from the arena by a group of eight men in uniform. A salute of five guns shall follow: the choir shall then sing and then the standard and flagbearers and the competitors shall march out to the sound of music.

66 Precedence

At all Olympic functions during the Games, the members and honorary members of the IOC in their order of seniority, the President and the Vice-Presidents leading, take precedence and are followed by the members of the OCOG, the Presidents of the IFs and the Presidents of the NOCs.
The OCOG must not give official recognition to any foreign delegation or mission, nor recognise any authority over participants other than that of the NOCs, the IF's and the IOC.

67 The OCOG shall strictly follow the protocol described in these Rules. No departure from them shall be allowed.

68 Patronage

The IOC may grant its patronage to international, regional, continental or world multi-sports competitions on condition that they comply with the requirements contained in the bye-law *.

* See page 60.
1. The IOC is the responsible authority for the protection of the Olympic flag, Olympic symbol and Olympic motto which are its exclusive property. It shall take every appropriate step possible to obtain their legal protection on a national and international basis. It shall also lend its support to efforts the NOCs must make to obtain the protection of the Olympic flag, symbol and motto for the IOC within their country.

2. Every NOC shall be responsible to the IOC within its country for the due observance of Rule 6 and its bye-law. It shall take steps to secure that any use of the Olympic flag, symbol or motto which is in breach of this rule and bye-law thereto shall be discontinued.

3. An NOC may at any time call upon the IOC for its help in obtaining protection, as envisaged above, for the Olympic flag, symbol or motto, and for the settlement of any differences which may arise with third parties in such matters.

4. Except for the official Olympic day, NOCs may only make use of the Olympic flag, symbol or motto provided that they have the express approval of the IOC to do so.

5. To contribute to the spreading and financing of the Olympic movement, the IOC shall encourage the issue of postage stamps, which may incorporate the Olympic rings in their design, by the competent authority in a country, acting in conjunction with the NOG of that country.

6. An emblem may be created and registered by an NOC or an OCOG. In this case, the protection thus obtained shall not thereby destroy or prejudice any rights of the IOC. The design of an Olympic emblem must be submitted to the IOC Executive Board for approval. Such approval is subject to the fact that there is no risk of confusion between that emblem and the Olympic symbol (the five rings alone).

7. The use of the Olympic flag and symbol for commercial purposes of any kind is strictly forbidden. The use of an Olympic emblem for commercial purposes is only allowed on the undermentioned conditions.

8. An NOC that wishes to use its Olympic emblem for commercial purposes, whether such use be by that NOC itself or through the agency of a third party to whom the NOC is contractually or otherwise bound, shall be deemed to have undertaken to observe this bye-law and to secure its observance by third parties.

9. Any contract concluded by the OCOG, or in which the OCOG is beneficiary, relating to the commercial use of the emblem of the Games must, before signature, be furnished to the IOC Executive Board for approval.

10. All such contracts or other arrangements which must be signed or approved by the NOC concerned shall be governed by the following principles:

— The period for which any contract shall operate shall not exceed four years, and no other provision for its extension or renewal shall be included in the contract.

— Any goods or literature on which an Olympic emblem appears, and any advertising material that has reference to such an emblem, must be submitted to the NOC concerned for its written approval.

— The use of the emblem must contribute to the development of the Olympic movement and shall not detract from its dignity.

— The IOC may demand to be sent any contract signed by an NOC.

11. The emblems of the IOC, as well as those of the above-mentioned OCOGs and those of other NOCs may not be used on the territory of an NOC without its prior approval.

12. The IOC Executive Board is entitled to issue such directives as it thinks appropriate to supplement this bye-law and make it easier to interpret and apply.

II - TO RULE 8

1. With the following exceptions, only nationals of a country entered by their NOC may take part in the Olympic Games and represent their country. If a competitor has represented one country in the Olympic Games, or in continental or Regional Games or in world or area championships recognised by the relevant IF concerned, he may not represent another country at the Olympic Games.

2. However, a competitor who has taken part in any such competition and who acquires his or her spouse's nationality by marriage may represent her or his spouse's country.
3. A competitor who possesses dual nationality (i.e. one by virtue of the law of one country, the other by virtue of the law of another country) may only represent one or other country as he elects, subject to the conditions contained in paragraph 1.

4. A competitor may represent the country of his birth and of which he is a national unless he opts to take the nationality of his father or mother.

5. Except for the case provided for in paragraph 2, a naturalised competitor (or one who has changed his nationality by naturalisation) may not participate in the Games to represent his new country until three years after his naturalisation. The period following naturalisation may be reduced or even cancelled with the agreement of the NOCs and IFs concerned and the final approval of the IOC Executive Board.

6. If an associated state, province or overseas department, a country or former colony acquires independence, or a country incorporated within another country by reason of a change of border, or if a new NOC is recognised by the IOC, a competitor may continue to represent the country to which he belongs or belonged. However, he may if he prefers choose to represent his country or be entered in the Games by his new NOC if one exists. This choice may only be made once, and derogates from paragraph 1.

III - TO RULE 12

Ceremony of introduction for new members

After his election, the new member is received officially with a short speech of welcome by the President, in the presence of the Committee in full Session.

He then makes the following declaration:

"Recognising the responsibilities that go with the great honour of serving as (one of) the representative(s) of the International Olympic Committee in my country (name of his country), I bind myself to promote the Olympic movement to the best of my ability and to guard and preserve its fundamental principles as conceived by Baron Pierre de Coubertin, keeping myself as a member free from all political, sectarian or commercial influence."
After this declaration the new member is introduced to each member of the IOC present. He then expresses briefly his thanks and his appreciation of his predecessor, if he is succeeding one, and takes the place reserved for him.

IV - TO RULES 16 AND 23

Jurisdiction and penalties

1. As the IOC is the supreme authority for all questions concerning the Games and the Olympic movement, the powers of the IOC in Session shall be paramount (Rule 23). Its decisions shall not be subject to appeal. It shall delegate its jurisdictional powers to the Executive Board, reserving the right to exercise them itself in such cases as it sees fit.

The juries of the different sports shall decide any technical matters concerning their respective sports. In this field any decision, even of a disciplinary nature, shall be final. They shall, however, be without prejudice to any further penalty which may be imposed by the IOC related to the Olympic Games and to the events held under its patronage.

2. Subject only to the conditions stipulated in paragraph 1 above, the Executive Board shall decide all matters of controversy of a non-technical nature concerning the Olympic movement and the Olympic Games.

3. The Executive Board may take action on its own initiative or upon the request of a member of the IOC, an NOC, an IF or an OCOG.

4. A member of the Executive Board shall be appointed as an examiner to investigate a matter of controversy and to report back to the Executive Board thereon, which shall decide by the vote of the majority of the members present. The examiner may be assisted in his task, from a juridical or technical aspect, by an IOC Commission or by one or several legal specialists or technicians as he wishes.

5. The person, committee or federation concerned in any charge made against him may present his defence personally or in writing. An IOC member so concerned may be represented or assisted by another IOC member. Managers, officials and athletes may be represented or assisted by an IOC member or by a representative of the NOC or IF within whose jurisdiction they fall. The NOC or federation may be represented by an IOC member or by a member of their Board.
6. The person, committee or federation concerned shall be advised by registered letter of the charges made and of the alleged offences, as well as of the date on which the Executive Board is to hear the case. At the Games, once the delegation concerned has been registered into the Olympic village, notification shall be given to its chef de mission or his representative in the Olympic village or at the hotel in which he is staying, or in the case of a member of an IF, to the representative of that federation in the hotel in which he is staying.

7. During the Games and the ten days prior to them, the inquiry shall be pursued as a matter of urgency and without delay by notification to the chef de mission. At other times, notification shall be given at least fifteen days before the case by the Executive Board.

8. The sentences that the Executive Board shall have power to impose are:

a) in all cases a warning or a reprimand, in that sequence, according to the gravity of the offence, and in addition:

b) in the case of IOC members:
   - proposals to the Session on
     - loss of status as a member,

     - loss of recognition,
     - suspension;
   in the case of athletes and competitors:
     - ineligibility,
     - permanent or temporary disqualification;

     - permanent or temporary disqualification;

c) in any of the cases mentioned above, the imposition of a fine;
d) in addition to disqualification and the loss of any placing gained, the individual competitor shall hand back the medal won (if any). The NOCs are obliged to see that penalties imposed are carried out.

V - TO RULE 24

1. In order to be recognised by the IOC, an NOC must submit its rules and regulations, as well as any subsequent modifications to these texts, to the IOC for approval.

2. The rules and regulations of all NOCs must be in compliance with the IOC Rules and refer to them expressly. The NOC is responsible for their being enforced in its country. If any doubt exists as to the scope or interpretation of the constitution or rules of an NOC, or if any contradiction exists between these texts and those of the IOC, the latter shall take precedence.

3. NOCs may submit proposals to the IOC regarding the IOC Rules, the Olympic movement in general or the organisation and conduct of the Olympic Games. These proposals may be submitted:
   — by an IOC member in the country, if any;
   — directly by one or more NOCs;
   — by a meeting of NOCs.
The IOC shall notify the deadline by which any proposals must be submitted for consideration at the next Session of the IOC.

4. An NOC must not accept as members more than one national federation for each sport, and that federation must be affiliated to the relevant IF recognised by the IOC.

5. NOCs may include national federations or representatives of federations which govern a sport not on the Olympic programme, multisports groups and organisations concerned in sport.

6. NOCs may also accept as members persons who are qualified to enable them to strengthen the effectiveness of the NOCs’ actions, or who have rendered eminent services to the cause of amateur sport and Olympism, and who possess the nationality of the country.

7. NOCs shall organise and control their country’s representation at the Olympic Games. Representation covers the decision to participate and the selection and entry of athletes for the Olympic Games. They shall be responsible for the equipment, transport and accommodation of their teams. They shall also be responsible for the behaviour of the members of their national delegation, on whose behalf NOCs shall take out insurance against the risks of death, disability, illness, medical and pharmaceutical expenses and third party liability.

8. In selecting competitors for the Olympic Games, NOCs may seek the assistance of the national federations and of any technical body they may appoint for this purpose. However, final selection shall remain the exclusive responsibility of the NOC which shall base selection not only on an athlete's sports performances but also on his ability to be an example to the sporting youth of his country.

9. A general meeting of an NOC must be held at least once a year.

10. The members of the Executive Board (inner committee, administrative committee or board of management) of an NOC must be elected at least every four years at a general meeting expressly convened for this purpose. Governments may not nominate any member of the NOC.

11. Members of NOCs, with the exception of those engaged solely in the administration of amateur sport, shall accept no salary or remuneration of any kind in respect of their position. They may however be reimbursed for travelling, subsistence and any other justified expenses incurred by them in connection with their duties.

12. Each NOC shall send to the IOC a certified copy of its rules and regulations together with a certified translation into French or English. The same obligation shall apply in respect of any subsequent change to these texts. Certified copies of the minutes of meetings at which elections or changes in membership have taken place shall be sent to the IOC if so requested.

13. NOCs are recommended:
   — to organise an Olympic day regularly (if possible annually) to further the Olympic movement;
   — to include in their activities the promotion of culture and arts in the sports and Olympic field;
   — to strive against deviations from sporting principles and particularly against all forms of doping or the improper manipulation of athletes;
— to participate in the work of Olympic Solidarity of the IOC;
— to raise funds to enable them to maintain their full independence, in particular from the government of their country or from any other organisation that controls sport in the country. Fund raising must, however, be undertaken in a manner that preserves the dignity and independence of the NOC from commercial organisations.

VI - TO RULE 25

1. In the event of any activity of an NOG or person under its control contravening the Olympic Rules or bye-laws, the IOC member in that country shall send the President of the IOC a report on the situation, who may appoint a member from another country to investigate the position.

2. Before ceasing to recognise an NOC, the IOC Executive Board may fix a period within which the NOC must conform with the Rules or decisions of the IOC. After the expiry of this period, the Executive Board may either suspend such NOC until further notice, or recommend to the IOC that it shall cease to recognise it. NOCs which cease to be recognised for the time being or permanently thereby lose the right to call themselves “National Olympic Committees” or to send competitors to the Olympic Games, or participate in activities led or patronised by the IOC, or use the Olympic symbol or any Olympic emblem.

VII - TO RULE 26

In no circumstances shall payment made under this provision exceed the sum which the competitor would have earned in his work in the same periods. The compensation may be paid with the approval of the national federations or the NOCs at their discretion.

XII - TO RULE 49

Any matter arising out of this bye-law shall be decided by the Executive Board of the IOC.

After consulting the IF concerned, the OCOG shall place at the disposal of the radio, cinema, television and press the space necessary for the proper coverage of the Games. The number and position of the places reserved for the mass media personnel, photographers, and radio, cinema and television equipment, may be limited only for reasons directly concerning the organisation of the events unless the Executive Board shall otherwise decide.

The OCOG shall exercise control over the use of all cameras set up in the stadia and stands. Cameras used privately for strictly non-commercial purposes in the enclosures reserved for spectators shall not however be subject to any restriction.

Accreditation

The OCOG shall, with the IOC’s approval, issue a work permit, called an “accreditation card”, to the representatives of the different officially accredited mass media, in accordance with the undermentioned categories.

The mass media categories ¹ shall be as follows:

1. Agency journalist or photographer ²

   Person engaged by a news agency as a reporter, editor, photographer or photographic editor to obtain, edit or report news items intended for the press.

¹ The maximum number permitted for each category appears in the press questionnaire for candidate cities.

² It is desirable for one national press agency of the host country to benefit from the same conditions as those granted to the five international agencies.
2. Member of agency staff
   Person engaged by a news agency to carry out all tasks other than mentioned in paragraph 1.

3. Journalist (daily press and magazine)
   Person engaged by a daily newspaper or periodical to write articles for inclusion in the same.

4. Commentator
   Person engaged by a radio or television organisation to describe or report an event orally, or to make live or recorded interviews for broadcasting by this organisation.

5. Crews for film or television news
   Team composed of one to four persons (cameraman, soundman, lighting technician, producer) employed or engaged by a film or television news agency, whose role is to supply film or television news organisations with the news material they require.

6. Auxiliary personnel
   Person not belonging to the press, but whose presence is essential on the ground or in the stands for the work of television: cablemen, machinists, soundmen, assistants, messenger boys.

7. Support staff
   Person not belonging to the press, but whose existence is essential to its work: secretaries, chauffeurs, messengers, electricians, machinists, etc. His presence is necessary in certain places — press centres, offices reserved for the press, studios, laboratories, etc., but not in the stands or on the competition sites.

8. Photographer
   Person whose profession is to take photographs intended for use by the press or various publications.

9. Freelance reporter
   Bona fide journalist collaborating freely with the newspaper or newspapers of his choice, to which he supplies articles.

The representatives of the five international agencies and the radio and television companies which have concluded a contract for the coverage of the Games receive accreditation direct from the OCOG.
The IOC and the OCOG shall jointly determine the quota for the other categories. The quota for each country is fixed by reference, in particular to the accreditations granted on the occasion of the previous Games as well as the national participation of the competitors at the Games and the country/countries for which the information is intended.

The NOC is alone responsible for compiling the list of people to be accredited and sending it to the OCOG with a copy to the IOC.

The number of accreditations required (including technical personnel) shall be submitted nine months before the Games. The names of the journalists and their possible substitutes shall be given six months before the Games.

The accreditation card shall clearly show the relevant category, that is:

- EI International agencies
- EA Other press agencies
- EAT Press agency staff
- EE Daily newspapers, periodicals, freelance journalists
- EP Photographers (including agency and pool photographers)
- EF Film and television news agencies
- EC Radio and television commentators
- ET Support staff
- ES Auxiliary personnel

These cards give their holders the following privileges:

- EI, EA, EE, EF, EC: free and unlimited access to the areas reserved for each of these categories at the events and official ceremonies for which there are no restrictions.

- ET, EP, EAT, ES: free and unlimited access to the reserved areas as decided by the OCOG upon the agreement of the IOC.

When restrictions on admission exist, special entry tickets or cards issued by the OCOG and distributed sufficiently in advance through each NOC or its nominee may be required for certain events.

\(^1\) a) The IOC strongly recommends all NOCs to appoint a press attaché to be in charge of all press matters during the Games.

\(b)\) If this is not possible, the NOCs should contact the professional sports press association in their country, if any, to designate a press syndic for all matters regarding national press during the Games.

\(c)\) Otherwise, the OCOG press department shall ask the journalists from each country to nominate one person to be responsible for the distribution of the special tickets.
After agreement of the IOC, the OCOG shall give detailed information to all accredited persons, sufficiently in advance, as to the facilities for working at each site and each event.

An accreditation card may only be withdrawn from its legitimate holder after the authorisation of the IOC Executive Board.

The OCOG shall keep 300 passes into the Olympic villages for the use of journalists or photographers to enter the Olympic villages at any stage of the Games.

Each of the five international agencies shall be allocated four of these passes on a permanent basis.

To obtain a pass into the villages, each journalist or photographer need only surrender his or her accreditation card. In exchange he shall receive a village pass. When leaving, the journalist or photographer must return the village pass in order to recover his card.

It shall not be required to complete administrative formalities to enter the villages.

The results of each event must be communicated daily to the IOC, the press, radio and television. These results shall be distributed firstly to the radio and television organisations. Announcements must be made on the scoreboard and in the daily programmes that the Games are events for individuals and that there is no scoring by nations.

Pools (photographic and film)

The OCOG, in collaboration with the television companies, newsreel producers and photographic agencies, and at the expense of the latter, shall set up photographic and film pools. The material thus obtained may not be re-used for making a special Olympic programme of any kind or for audio-visual programmes on either the Games or the athletes competing in the Games.

A copy of all original films taken by the pools shall be given free of charge to the IOC for its archives. The same applies to all still photographs taken by the pools.

Broadcasting and distribution rights

The term “broadcasting” means the placing at the disposal of the public the official events and ceremonies within the Olympic Games and the Winter Games without the circulation of any tangible device. Broadcasting therefore includes notably radio broadcasting and television, and transmission to subscribers by cable or by any other means.

The term “distribution” means the placing at the disposal of the public the official events and ceremonies within the Olympic Games and the Winter Games by means of a tangible device, such as phonograph records, videograms (videodiscs and video-cassettes), film, etc.

The IOC, jointly with the OCOG, may, against payment therefor, grant concessions for television. The IOC may itself grant the distribution rights defined above against payment therefor, subject to the provisions here below concerning the official Olympic film.

Subject to the provisions of this bye-law, the television rights for the Olympic Games and the Winter Games may only be granted by the IOC, jointly with the OCOG, directly to television organisations for their respective national territories (or to the national or international associations of such organisations).

Other contracts entered into by the OCOG, in so far as they are linked directly or indirectly with the sale of television rights (including timekeeping, the official Olympic film, etc.) shall only be valid after having received the approval of the Executive Board of the IOC.

All insertion and/or overprinting of a commercial nature must be the subject of a special agreement to be approved by the IOC.

The total amount for television and distribution rights is to be paid to the IOC either directly or through the intermediary of the OCOG, following the IOC's agreement.

Olympic film and technical films

The IOC gives the OCOG a mandate to take the necessary steps to ensure that the Games are recorded on a film comprising shots of each individual sport and the opening and closing ceremonies.

In order to carry out this mandate, the OCOG commissions, for the purpose of producing the film, a company approved by the IOC and having the necessary facilities and qualified personnel and a world film distribution network. The OCOG concludes a contract with this company which shall only be valid after approval by the IOC. The contract shall stipulate that all the rights necessary for the exploitation of the film in any manner belong to the IOC and that the company gives a guarantee to this effect.

However, for a period of four years commencing with the closing of the Games, the IOC shall grant the NOC of the country where the Games were held the right to exploit the film subject to the payment of a royalty, to be determined between the IOC and the NOC on the basis of the gross receipts from the exploitation of the film.

Before the film is released, the IOC shall be given the opportunity to preview it and to require such modifications as may be considered necessary to make the film completely compatible with the letter and spirit of the Olympic Rules. The required modifications shall then be made.

Once the film is released a complete copy, together with the master negative, is to be given free of charge to the IOC.

The IFs and NOCs may obtain, at cost price, copies of this film for private showing to their members only.

The IFs will be authorised to make 16 mm. technical films of their respective events intended for schools, athletic clubs or other similar bodies, in return for payment.

A copy of all technical films taken during the Games must be given to IOC headquarters for its archives.

The NOCs may buy copies of these films from the OCOG for showing under the same conditions as the IFs.

Post-Olympic use

No reproduction of the Games by picture, whether moving or still (other than the official film), may be used for commercial purposes for any programme whatsoever without the IOC’s prior authorisation and without payment of a fee.

XIII - TO RULE 68

This text must be reviewed during the 80th IOC Session in Athens.

Rules adopted by the International Olympic Committee at its 47th Session in Helsinki, July 1952

In order to enjoy the patronage of the IOC and to be permitted to display the Olympic flag, Regional Games must be conducted in accordance with the following minimum requirements:

1. The Games must be restricted to amateurs. They must not extend over a period of more than sixteen days.

2. Contestants must belong to national federations which are members of IFs recognised by the IOC and participating countries must have NOCs recognised by the IOC. Invitations to participate in the Games must be sent to these NOCs or other appropriate sports bodies by the Organising Committee of the Games.

3. In order to further the high ideals of the Olympic movement (which these Games should serve, according to Baron de Coubertin who first suggested that they be organised to supplement the Olympic Games), the Games shall be confined to athletic sports controlled by IFs recognised by the IOC. They shall not be held in conjunction with other events such as fairs or exhibitions, and no other athletic event of importance shall be held at the same time, nor in the preceding or following week.

The Games shall be conducted in a dignified manner and without commercial exploitation. Commercial installations and advertising signs shall not be permitted inside the stadium or other sports grounds.

4. They must not be held within the period of twelve months following or preceding the Olympic Games. They must not be held more frequently than once in four years in the same region. Entries must be limited to the region designated. The IFs concerned shall be notified as soon as the date of the Games is fixed and must approve the facilities and proposed technical organisation at least two years in advance of the opening.

5. The ceremonies in connection with the Games may be similar to, but must not be identical with, those of the Olympic Games. There must be no political or other extraneous events during the Games. The loudspeaker must be used for sports purposes only and no political speeches are to be permitted. In fact there must be no commercial or political intervention whatsoever.

6. Control of all technical arrangements for the Games, including the appointment of juries and officials, must be in the hands of the IFs concerned. Provision must be made for the presence of a representative of each IF whose sport is on the programme sufficiently in advance of the opening of the Games to ensure that the facilities are adequate and in order, and that the regulations for that sport are being followed.

7. There must be an International Court of Appeal similar to that described in Olympic Rule 44 for the sole purpose of settling any matter of dispute outside the control of the respective IFs.

8. The rules and regulations of the Games and the list of events on the programme must be submitted to the IOC and to each of the IFs concerned, for approval. They should be furnished in two (French and English) or more languages so that all participants may be fully informed.

9. Provision must be made for the presence of a representative of the IOC who shall prepare a complete report of the Games for that organisation.
10. The words “Olympic” and “Olympiad,” the five rings and the Olympic motto “Citius - Altius - Fortius” must not be used in any manner in connection with Regional Games. The Olympic flag may be used only in one place and that is in the stadium on a flagpole alongside the centre pole bearing the flag of the Games.

11. Countries which are eligible to participate in the Games of a particular region may organise themselves into a regional federation or similar entity and appoint a governing council or committee which may include members of the IOC of that region and representatives of the IFs.

The overseas territories or departments or the provinces at a distance from the mother country may, due to their geographical situation and with the authorisation of their country’s NOC, constitute a regional Olympic Committee and take part in the Regional Games organised in their zone.

As far as problems of doping and femininity controls are concerned, the IOC Rules explicit in the “IOC Medical Controls” brochure shall be strictly applied.
INSTRUCTIONS
I - POLITICAL USE OF SPORT

The International Olympic Committee notes with great satisfaction that its efforts are universally approved, it rejoices in the enthusiasm which the Olympic movement has encouraged among different nations and it congratulates those which, with a view to encouraging popular sports, have adopted vast programmes of physical education.

It considers, however, as dangerous to the Olympic ideals that, besides the proper development of sports in accordance with the principles of amateurism, certain tendencies exist which aim primarily at a national exaltation of the results gained instead of the realisation that the sharing of friendly effort and rivalry is the essential aim of the Olympic Games.

II - THE OLYMPIC GAMES ARE NOT FOR PROFIT

No one is permitted to profit from the Olympic Games. If it were not for the voluntary service given by thousands of men and women who are members of the International Olympic Committee, the International Federations, the National Olympic Committees and the national federations, there would be no Olympic Games. It would be impossible to pay for these services, which are so gladly contributed by those who believe in sport. The Games rest on this splendid and solid foundation and all are determined that neither individuals, organisations or nations shall be permitted to profit from them, politically or commercially. That is why the Olympic Rules provide that all profits, if any, from the Olympic Games must be paid to the International Olympic Committee and be used for the promotion of the Olympic movement or the development of sport.
III - SESSIONS OF THE INTERNATIONAL OLYMPIC COMMITTEE

1. General provisions

One Session of the IOC is held every year, except in the year of the Games, when a Session precedes both the Olympic Games and the Winter Games.

In the year of the allocation of the Games, the Session may not be held in the country of one of the candidate cities.

No election may take place during the Session held on the occasion of the Winter Games.

Except in the Olympic year – when the Organising Committee is responsible – the NOC of the country where the Session is held is responsible for the complete organisation of the Session, but it may delegate its authority to a local Committee, of which the IOC member in the country must always be a member. This, however, does not exempt it from the responsibility.

The Organising Committee shall give its assurance that no meeting concerned with sport will be held eight days before or eight days after any meeting organised by the IOC and not approved by the IOC.

The Organising Committee may not use the Olympic emblem for publicity or commercial purposes without the formal approval of the IOC.

2. Invitations

Invitations from cities wishing to be host of a Session, except in an Olympic year, must be received by the IOC, through the NOC, two months before the Session at which the invitation will be discussed and three years before the Session concerned (i.e. in 1972 for 1975).

Invitations to the Session shall be sent by the Committee in charge directly to all members, at least two months before the Session, and a firm date shall be indicated after which no guarantee may be given for accommodation or other facilities.
Badges for the IOC members and the Secretariat, especially when the Session is held in an Olympic year, must be sent to IOC headquarters, which shall distribute them. They must not be sent to members via their NOC.

When the Executive Board is meeting with the representatives of the IFs or the NOCs, the Organising Committee shall dispatch badges to those concerned.

Badges for the Sessions, engraved with the name of the bearer, are the following:

- White
  - Members of the International Olympic Committee
  - Directors of the International Olympic Committee (the surname shall be engraved on the lower part of the badge)
  - Persons accompanying the IOC members and Directors (one guest per person)

All badges shall be uniform, with only the ribbons (length: 8 cm, width: 3 cm) changing colour. The stripe shall be 10 mm wide placed in the centre and running down the length of the ribbon.

At Sessions no accreditation may be granted without the IOC's prior approval, except for those distributed directly by the Organising Committee (purple and purple with black stripe ribbons).

A person may receive only one accreditation.

Six A badges shall be put at the disposal of the Director of the IOC for any special assistants that the President or Executive Board members would like to invite.

Should the IOC or the Executive Board wish to meet representatives of the IFs, NOCs or Organising Committees, invitations to attend the Session shall be made by the IOC and the list of guests forwarded to the Organising Committee so that it may send further information (e.g., programme, etc.).

It is common practice for a member(s) of the Organising Committee of the subsequent Session to visit the organising city in order to become acquainted with the various problems which arise. The Session organisers are kindly requested to facilitate the task of such persons in every way possible and to accredit them as other Organising Committee representatives.

3. Accommodation - General provisions

All members of the IOC shall be lodged in one hotel. A member may be accompanied by a guest benefiting from the same tariffs as the member.

The accommodation for members shall be provided at the most reasonable rates, with prices amounting to a maximum of 85 Swiss francs per day for a single room with bath and breakfast, and 110 Swiss francs per day for a double room with bath and breakfast.

The Organising Committee shall provide, free of charge, a room and sitting room for the President and Director of the IOC and bedrooms for the Secretariat (full board) in the same hotel as the members of the IOC, in accordance with the requirements of the Director.
The IOC may hold meetings with the IFs or NOCs, or meetings of its Commissions at a Session. These members, as well as the delegates reporting from the cities organising the following Games (limited to 6 persons) and the IOC advisers invited to the meetings, shall be lodged on the same terms as members of the IOC. All other delegations or persons attending shall pay the normal commercial rates for that hotel. These delegates may be lodged in other hotels.

A pool of cars (or buses for collective transport) shall be kept available for the transportation of the members and their official company. A car must be available at all times for the President and Director of the IOC.

A pool of hostesses shall be kept available for the members and their official company.

A commemorative photograph of all members shall be taken at the Session at the Organising Committee’s expense.

4. Opening of the Session

The NOC of the host country (in Olympic years the OCOG) shall be responsible for arranging the opening ceremony. The ceremony must, except in the case of the year of the Games, be performed by the Head of State. In the year of the Games, the Head of State, who will be opening the Games, may delegate his authority.

Besides the President of the NOC, the President of the IOC and the Head of State may make a speech. No other persons are permitted to make a speech.

This opening ceremony, which must compulsorily include the Olympic hymn, should also contain a dignified programme which may include music and dancing, but the ceremony shall be strictly limited to one hour.

Seating at the opening ceremony shall be according to IOC protocol as printed below.

In the hall where the official opening of the Session will be held, there should be three groups: the centre being the IOC, on the right the IFs and NOCs and on the left the Organising Committee and special guests. In the first row, the Head of State, the President of the IOC and the President of the host NOC with their wives will be seated.

Members of the IOC, in strict protocol order, will then follow, their wives at their side. Next come the Directors of the IOC, then any other guests of the members, special assistants and finally the Secretariat of the IOC.

Press representatives will be allowed in the room.
5. Protocol

Rule 66 of the IOC shall be effective at all Sessions and meetings approved by the IOC.

The spirit of the IOC Rules shall prevail in the protocol of all meetings.

The order of precedence at the official opening ceremony shall be:

1. IOC
   - The President
   - The Honorary President (if such is the case)
   - The First Vice-President
   - The Second Vice-President
   - The Third Vice-President
   - The Honorary Vice-President (if such is the case)
   - The members of the IOC (including honorary members at the Session immediately before the Games) in order of seniority of original election date. Where more than one member was elected at any Session, precedence shall be interpreted in alphabetical order of the principal family name.
   - The Directors of the IOC
   - The IOC advisers and special guests

2. Organising Committee of the Olympic Games.

3. Organising Committee of the Winter Games.

   - The Presidents (or their representatives) of the IFs recognised by the IOC and whose sport is on the Olympic programme, in alphabetical order as published in French in the Olympic Directory.

   - The Presidents (or their representatives) of the NOCs commencing with Greece, then proceeding alphabetically (in French) as published in the Olympic Directory, with the host country last.

6. Organising Committee of the Session or meeting.
   - See IOC Rule 66.

7. Press by countries alphabetically in French or the language of the host country.

8. Staff and interpreters.
   - Note: The Executive Board and other honorary officers have no precedence, nor is titular precedence recognised within the IOC.
Meetings

At Sessions of the IOC, members shall be seated as follows:

President

On his right, First Vice-President; on his left, Second Vice-President. Third Vice-President to be seated on the right of First Vice-President. Members of the Executive Board on either side, according to their date of election to the Executive Board.

Members of the IOC in precedence, anti-clockwise in a semicircle from the President, alternating, facing each other, the senior to the right of the Executive table, the next to the left and so on.

Where there is more than one member in each country, the second member may be seated with the senior member to facilitate the meeting. (Members must not be placed back to back - i.e. inside a U.)

If members of the IOC attend meetings as representatives of their IF or NOC, they shall, during that time, be treated as members of the IF or NOC only.

Receptions

At the opening ceremonies and receptions, the above protocol shall be adhered to, but at seated dinners the IFs, NOCs and members of the host country may be interspersed in seating plans.

At formal presentations (e.g. to the Head of State, chief of government) only spouses of the IOC members shall stand beside the member (on the left or right, as applicable) so that the member may introduce his spouse after the President has made formal presentation of the member.

Any special guests of the IOC meetings shall be placed with the members of their country. If no member is present, they shall be placed at the end.

If at any time the above precedence should clash with the official protocol of the country when the IOC is invited by the Head of State or chief of government, the Organising Committee shall refer this to the President of the IOC.

When the Presidents of IFs or NOCs are not present in person, their representatives shall be given the same precedence. Additional delegates at formal presentations, opening ceremonies, meetings, etc. shall be grouped with their President, but for seating at dinners they may be interspersed, after the IOC members have been placed in Olympic protocol.
Agenda

The agenda is prepared by the IOC in conformity with Rule 15. Members of the IOC, NOCs and Boards of IFs administering sports on the Olympic programme have the right to propose items for the agenda, such proposals to be presented to the President not later than five months before the meeting. The acceptance of such proposals is due to decision by the Executive Board.

Debates at Sessions

1. Commissions must conclude each subject, by simple majority vote, with a firm and clear resolution and with a minimum of preamble (it is within the Commissions that exchanges of ideas or "discussions" take place).

2. At the Session, the Chairman of each Commission proposes the ratification of the minutes adopted by his Commission, under the relevant item on the agenda.

3. The President subsequently calls out each heading of the Commission minutes, which is then open for debate.

4. Only one speech per person is permitted under each heading of the Commission minutes, except for points of order and explanations by the Chairman.

5. Each heading may, by simple majority vote, be:
   - referred back to the Commission for further consideration, or
   - rejected,
   otherwise it becomes automatically approved.

6. These rules also apply to the resolutions proposed individually by IOC members.

7. The proposer of a motion has the right to speak last.

6. Programme

In order to avoid any mistake in the publications produced by the Organising Committee, all proofs must be submitted to the IOC Secretariat.

The programme of the Sessions which should not include more than three receptions must be approved by the Executive Board. A programme for members’ families may be arranged by the Organising Committee.

The detailed programme, together with a list of all persons attending the Session, with their addresses, must be available to IOC members on their arrival in the host city.
a) Conference hall

A conference hall in the same hotel, or nearby, big enough to accommodate all members, shall be put at the disposal of the IOC in accordance with further instructions of the Director of the IOC.

During the Sessions and the meetings of the Executive Board with the International Federations or with the National Olympic Committees, the table at which the Executive Board shall sit, as well as the President's seat, must be raised.

The Session's emblem must be fixed in front of the tribune where the President sits and the Olympic flag must be placed behind him.

During the meetings of the Executive Board with the IFs or the NOCs, a tribune on the President's right must be reserved for members of the IOC wishing to attend the meeting.

Extra seats must be available in the conference hall for Commissions or delegations which have to report to the IOC.

Simultaneous translation facilities (English, French, Spanish, Russian and German are compulsory — others are at the discretion of the Organising Committee) must be available not only for the IOC and the Secretariat, but also for any delegations, representatives of IFs or NOCs, who may be attending a particular meeting.

In order to ensure an appropriate standard of simultaneous translation, the IOC Secretariat may provide the interpreters required for the compulsory languages, at the normally applicable rate of the market. The cost of these interpreters shall be met by the Organising Committee.

Tape-recording equipment for the Session shall be provided according to the instructions of the Director of the IOC.

All recordings of conferences or meetings must be made as follows:

This recording shall be made on a professional magnetic tape: 540 m (1800 ft) to 720 m (2400 ft) standard length tape, mat backing, high fidelity.
The reels carrying this tape shall be 26 cm (10 ins) — or if unobtainable 18 cm (7 ins) — in diameter.
The recording speed shall be 19 cm/s (7 1/2 ins/s) — or if not possible 9.5 cm/s (3 3/4 ins/s).
The recording shall be made on a single track, or eventually on a two-track system.

Complete minutes, comprising the recording counter’s numerotation, name of speakers, subject of their statements (and other details generally included in this type of minutes) must accompany each tape recording.

Each reel must bear a label indicating the date and time of the recording it contains.
The tape recorders shall correspond to current European standards.

d) Film and slide projectors

Film and slide projectors as well as a screen must be set up in the conference hall. An operator must also be available.

The Secretariat of the IOC shall always have access to the President of the IOC and the IOC members during the Games, Sessions or meetings.

Any organisers, hostesses, etc. must not be in the room. Communication must be arranged for the President to call messengers, if necessary.

The Organising Committee is responsible that no one enters the conference or ante-room either during or between sessions without permission from the President or the Director of the IOC.

Session-headed paper must be provided in sufficient quantity for the members and the Secretariat of the IOC.

Waste-paper basket facilities, as well as note pads and pencils must be provided in the meeting rooms. All waste paper must be destroyed by a responsible person selected by the IOC.

The Organising Committee is responsible for all security arrangements during meetings.

8. Press and photographers

It is usual for the international press to attend the meetings of the IOC. All newsmen wishing to follow the proceedings of these meetings must obtain an accreditation card from the Director of the IOC. The Organising Committee of the Session may nominate a press attache but he must follow the instructions given by the Director of the IOC.

A room must be provided for the press, as well as a press room with interpreters for any press conference the President or the Director may wish to hold during or after the Session.

Also facilities must be available for the immediate translation into French, English and the language of the host country of any press releases which the President may wish to authorise during or after the Session.

What figures do you propose?

The following five international agencies are recognised by the IOC: AFP, AP, UPI, Reuters and Tass. They deal directly with the Organising Committee (OCOG). Do you undertake to respect this clause? What facilities for working can you offer them?

Do you undertake to accept the accreditation of any journalist whatsoever as long as he is proposed by the National Olympic Committee (NOC) of his country?

Do you undertake to facilitate the work of the news media as far as possible within the limits of the demands of the organisation of the Games, particularly taking into account the working conditions of each category?

Can the journalists’ free movement in the Olympic zone(s) and the free transmission of information be guaranteed?

Press centre and accommodation

Do you plan the construction or adaptation of a main press centre? Where? It is highly desirable that it be situated in the immediate vicinity of the main stadium. In what form? Containing what?

What subsidiary press centres do you plan? Containing what?

How do you propose to accommodate the press?

a) In a specially constructed press village similar to those built in Mexico City and Munich? Where? In what form? What tariffs do you propose? If not, what accommodation is planned?

b) In hotels or motels? or

c) In student halls of residence?

What distance will the press accommodation be from the main press centre and main stadium?

Do you agree to keep the prices of the accommodation for the press as reasonable as possible after consultation and with the approval of the IOC Press Commission?

Can you guarantee that the bulk of the press accommodation will comprise one single bed per room? And that there will be facilities for the installation of private telephones, at prices fixed and agreed with the IOC Press Commission?

Note: It is important to realise that journalists are in an Olympic city to do a job of work. Therefore, their living accommodation should include individual washing and bathing facilities, and easy availability of laundry facilities.
Transport

This is always a problem, especially when the venues of the various sports are spread over a large area. How do you propose to organise transport for the press?

a) by special buses and coaches? or

b) by special cars and minibuses?

Whichever method is used, can you guarantee the service will be for the use of the press only and not for the general public?

Furthermore, in consultation with the IOC Press Commission, do you guarantee to run a shuttle service from the press centres and sub-centres?

Communications

What are the present technical possibilities that you can offer for the telephone?

Can you provide a plan of the telephone installations planned for each of the sites, the main press centre and the press village?

On what lines will they be put at the journalists' disposal?

What conditions (financial in particular) do you plan for the installation of private lines?

What telex installations do you plan?

What other transmission apparatus are you planning (facsimile, belinos, etc.)?

Can you describe the press information system that will function in the period immediately before the Games, during the Games and after the Games?

What information do you plan to issue on:

— the country
— the OCOG
— the installations
— the events
— the athletes?

The results must be given in priority to the radio and television. What do you envisage in this respect?

Is a press agency results system planned and will the system be made compatible with the computers of the agencies where possible?

Athletes' villages

Do you agree — after prior consultations with the IOC Press Commission — to make adequate arrangements inside the athletes' villages for the press to interview athletes, provided the latter agree to be inter­viewed?

An agreed figure on how many journalists allowed in the villages at any one time is stipulated in the Rules.

Conclusion

In all matters concerning the comfort and technical efficiency of the facilities offered to the press (e. g. number of telephones and the prices) the final arbiter will be the IOC Press Commission.

the International Olympic Committee and the Organising Committee (hereinafter called “IOC/OCOG”) for the Games of the Olympiad of 19( hereinafter called “Games”), of the one part, and (hereinafter called “the Organisation”) of the other part,

1. Subject to the terms of this contract, the Organisation acquires the exclusive right to transmit the Games on television [or allow to be transmitted by its members situated in the broadcasting area and listed in annex 1 of this contract], by any means including television in monochrome or colour, by cable, by pay-television, by closed circuit, live or recorded, for private or public reception, in whole or in part.

¹ The words in square brackets are applicable when the Organisation is a union of broadcasting authorities.

Olympic Rule 49, concerning news reporting and the use on television of the official Olympic film, is not affected by the terms of this contract.

2. The right to transmit the Games in sound broadcasting is free of any payment to the IOC/OCOG and is granted exclusively to the Organisation if the latter guarantees that the Games will thus be transmitted throughout its country [if the latter guarantees that the Games will thus be transmitted throughout the countries where the authorities listed in annex 1 are situated]. In the absence of such a guarantee, the IOC/OCOG reserves the right to allow the Games to be freely transmitted by one or several sound broadcasting authorities in the country of the Organisation [in one or several countries of the authorities of the Organisation, for which country or countries the said guarantee has not been given].

3. The IOC/OCOG undertakes to provide the Organisation, at the radio/television centre, with the basic signal produced by the authority of the host country of the Games (basic signal) and covering all the competitions, including the opening and closing ceremonies, and to supply the Organisation with the facilities and services listed in annex 2 of this contract, in particular a negotiated number of: commentator positions, electronic or film camera positions, accreditation cards and passes to the competition sites and Olympic villages, car parking places, entry permits to the host country and work permits, etc.

5. The Organisation is authorised to show the emblem of the Games on the screen. If it has the right to advertise on television [If one of its members listed in annex 1 has the right to advertise on television], such advertising shall be compatible with the Olympic spirit. Companies placing their advertising in the televised broadcasts of the Games may use the emblem of the Games, as well as in their promotional publications, on condition that the Olympic spirit is respected.
6. The IOC/OCOG undertakes to prevent the personnel under its control from interfering with the transmissions. The Organisation undertakes to prevent the personnel under its control from interfering with the course of the Games.

IOC/OCOG up to the amount of the damages actually incurred by the IOC/OCOG and for which it can produce evidence.

Conversely, any day by which the Games are reduced compared to their length scheduled at the time of signing this contract gives the Organisation the right to reduce proportionately the total payment to the IOC/OCOG.
